DCI:

Reference Paragraph 2 of the attached report. I told Mr. Drury that you were very much pleased with his book and I suggested that if he were interested he might come over and have a chat with you about the book.

He told me at the time he was pleased you liked the book and we did set a date for him to come over. Later he asked that the date be cancelled, saying that since he is on leave from the NY TIMES until the first of the year, he thought it would be better to make his visit in January, not as an author but as a reporter. I told him that would certainly be satisfactory. He was of course cordial.
