

Sanitized - Approved For Release : CIA-RDP7

The Sunday Star

CPYRIGHT

THE TRACY BARNES' have also moved away from Washington and are now living in New Haven, Conn. Tracy quit the CIA last spring after a long service in the cloak and dagger outfit and has now become a policy adviser to President Kingman Brewster of Yale. The Barnes' Prospect Avenue house in Georgetown with its fabulous river view is on the market.