

JAN 13 1957

FOIAb3b

NEW YORK TIMES

CPYRGHT

CPYRGHT

WEDDING IS HELD FOR MISS JACKSON

She Wears Gown of India Silk at Marriage in Stowe, Vt., to Robert W. Heussler

Special to The New York Times.
STOWE, Vt., Jan. 12. Miss Margaret Ten Broeck Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stuyvesant Jackson of Falls Church, Va., was married here this afternoon to Robert William Heussler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koerner Heussler of East Aurora, N. Y.

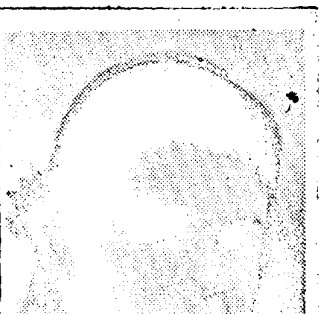

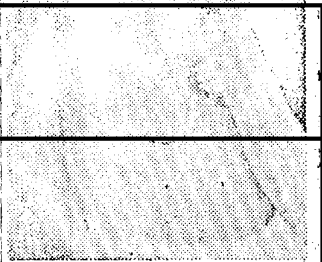

The Rev. Edward Young of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy, N. Y., performed the ceremony at The Fountain.

The bride's gown was of ivory India silk trimmed with rose-point lace taken from the wedding gown of the bridegroom's mother. She wore a fingertip veil of heirloom Brussels lace held by clusters of orange blossoms.

Mr. Jackson gave his daughter in marriage. Her only attendant was Miss Patricia Henry Falk. Mr. Heussler was best man for his son.

Mrs. Heussler attended St. Agnes School for Girls, Alexandria, Va., and graduated from the George Mason School in Falls Church. She is a junior at Bennington College.

Mr. Heussler graduated from the Taft School, Watertown, Conn., and Dartmouth College. He did graduate work at Princeton University.

Bradford Bachrach
Mrs. Robert Heussler, who was Miss Margaret Jackson.

CPYRGHT