Timeless Frames

CPYRGHT

A former CIA African specialist working in an old chicken house framed the painting that hangs over the fireplace in President Kennedy's White House office.

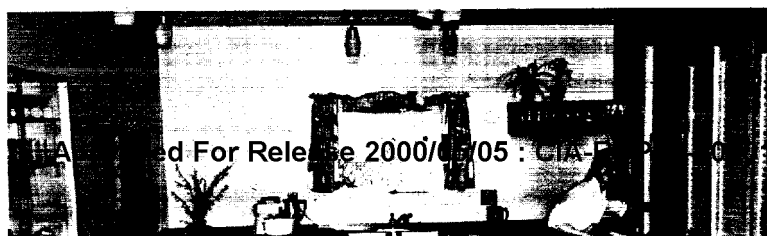

John W. Lane Jr., of Oakton, Va., applied 23-karat gold leaf to the frame with a centuries-old process, long in disuse, that he dug out of the Library of Congress.

A diploma- and degree-less economist schooled both here and abroad, Lane, 34, worked for the Central Intelligence Agency for eight years before he quit its Office of National Estimates last year.

He then turned his picture-framing hobby into a business. He's the framer for the Corcoran gallery, which referred to him the Dominic Serres naval scene over the President's mantel. He has made two other frames and renovated a third for the White House.

Fifty hours' work went into the Serres frame. Lane chose its simple basswood molding—corners broken by brief rosettes—to fit the John Quincy Adams period of the painting.

Quitting CIA gave Lane time to design and build a home out of the 160-foot hen house on his 5-acre lot sloping down from Chain Bridge rd. At one end, hard by the shed where the Lanes' hunter Red Clown is stabled, is his workshop. At the other end is the 32-by-24-foot living room, with eight open beams revealing an area "first," a pre-finished celotex roof.

ARTHRITIS- RHEUMATISM SUFFERERS!

Wake up Tomorrow Without Pain!

Sleep tonight...all night—free from pain!

Doctors at three leading arthritis clinics report that a remarkable new tablet now gives safe, effective relief from arthritis-rheumatism pain 24 hours a day, and doctors were amazed at the favorable response even in cases of Osteoarthritis and Rheumatoid Arthritis. Patients responded quickly to the new super tablet. Even swelling and stiffness of paincrippled joints where present were soon relieved in many cases.

Unlike aspirin which is quickly eliminated from the blood, the new tablet (Super Sustamin 2-12) releases a continuous flow of pain-relieving ingredients into the blood stream for as long as 12 full hours. Super Sustamin is so effective that just one dosage assures an active pain-free day, all day, or pain-free night.

Super Sustamin is sold in drug-stores without prescription on money-back guarantee. Follow simple label

MAKING a gilded frame begins with wood strips joined by Lane on miter vise, top left, using nails and hot rabbit-skin glue. After three coats of gesso and three of bole have smoothed wood surface, Lane puts thin gold leaf squares on a cushion of pony hide and cuts them (top center) to size. Never touching the leaf by the moistened frame (top right) held by static electricity on a special brush called a gilder's tip.
