Columbia University has established a Research Institute on Communist Affairs. It was announced Monday by President Grayson Kirk.

The institute is believed to be the first in any American university devoted to the study of relations and comparisons of Communist states and movements throughout the world.

Prof. Zbigniew Brzezinski, an expert on the relations of Communist states, is director of the institute. It will operate under the university's School of International Affairs.

The new center will be supported by funds drawn from a $55 million gift to Columbia from the Ford Foundation. Scholars from England, Europe, India and elsewhere will be invited to come to the institute for year-long participation in research projects.

The institute will have the assistance of recognized scholars on Communist China, the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. The administrative board will include A. Doak Barnett, Alexander Dallin, Henry L. Roberts, Martin Wilbur, Senayler Wallace, David S. Smith, William T. R. Fox

Gavin Returning For Fort Bragg Rite

PARIS (AP).

American Ambassador James M. Gavin called to see President Charles de Gaulle yesterday on the eve of Mr. Gavin's departure for a visit to the United States. He is to return here next Sunday.

Mr. Gavin will attend a ceremony at Fort Bragg, N. C., the headquarters of the 82d airborne division, on Thursday. He was assistant division commander of the unit at the time of the Normandy landing. He will take with him an urn of Rouen pottery containing earth from the division's burial ground in France.

and Edward A. Allworth—all faculty members.

The institute also will investigate relations among Communist factions and forces outside the Sino-Soviet bloc. In addition, the scholars will study the appeal of communism to social and national groups in the emerging nations of Asia, Latin American and Africa.

"At this moment in history, such studies are of vast importance," Dr. Kirk said.

The new center which now begins its work will be admirably equipped to make a significant contribution, politically and intellectually. Under its powerful microscope, concepts now held will be viewed with clearer definition, perhaps lending confirmation, perhaps pointing to the need for revision. Either way, the microscope will serve the cause of mankind.

"We need to understand more clearly the places of Communist China and Yugoslavia in the Communist world; the peculiarities of the Polish position, and the possible effects of conflict of interest among the Communist states. All are matters now to be examined in a manner not before possible."
