15 Volumes for Suzanne Fitzsimmons

Rural Edgerton Girl Wins Set of Encyclopedias

SUZANNE FITZSIMMONS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fitzsimmons, Route 1, Edgerton, is shown above with the 15-volume set of Encyclopaedia Britannica Junior which she received for submitting the winning essay in a recent contest in connection with the Tell Me Why column, a daily feature in the GREEN.

Suzanne, who is 13, wrote on the subject "If I Were President." Her essay follows:

"I'd tell Khrushchev we'd fight for Laos if necessary. I'd try to build wages and lower unemployment. Also I'd try to strengthen ties between foreign countries with inexpensive reading material and send over hard-working Americans to help. I'd try to raise the budget of C.I.A. and U.S.I.A. and Suzanne attends the Yahara Valley School and will be in 8th grade next fall.
