Hobbs Replaces McCone as TWA Director

CHARLES S. HOBBS, president and general manager of Hale Bros. Stores, San Francisco, has been elected to the Trans World Airlines board of directors. He replaces John A. McCone, who resigned last November to accept a presidential appointment as director of the Central Intelligence Agency. A native Californian and a Stanford graduate (Class of '20), Hobbs has been active in retail management since 1924. He also is vice president-director of Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc.
