

HERALD TRIBUNE

NOV 12 1965

CPYRGHT

Tribute to 'Super Spy' Penkovsky

Oleg Penkovsky, "the West's super spy in Moscow," was probably detected and arrested by Soviet security agents because of his swift response to an American request for Soviet secrets during the 1962 Cuba missile crisis, British agent Greville Wynne told a news conference. The executed spy's personal papers are being published here.