DIARY NOTES

DD/S w

21 January 1965

25X1A6d 1. I talked with Alan Warfield about his conversation with Mr. [redacted] 25X1A6d
 25X1A6d concerning the purchase of the so-called "[redacted]." Alan assured me 25X1A6d
 25X1A6d that Mr. [redacted] completely understands that we would be happy to negoti-
 [redacted] I am inclined to agree with Alan that we should not approach [redacted] 25X1A6d
 He is apparently paying the owners nothing for his option and would have nothing to lose by holding out for a high price based on maximum use of the land.
 (While I agree that we should watch and wait, I also think that we should clear the purchase of this land in principle with our Congressional committees and have so recommended to Mr. Kirkpatrick.)

25X1A9a 2. I met with [redacted] on a number of problems.
 [redacted]

25X1A9a b. [redacted] presented to me a general, but not final, repro-25X1A9a gramming plan based upon a review of the first half of Fiscal Year 1965.
 I told him that it looked all right to me but said that I would like to have Bob Bannerman and [redacted] review it before we commit ourselves.

25X1A9a c. [redacted] presented a case, and I think a very good one, for changing the work hours of the Office of Communications to 0830 to 1700 H hours. I told him to send me a paper making this recommendation and I would approve it. (In this connection, the Deputy Directors were given considerable flexibility in deciding what personnel would come to work at what hours in order to ensure that their offices were properly manned. I have a feeling that the great bulk of our employees are now working from 0830 to 1700 hours, and sometime soon I should like to make a quiet survey to see what actually has happened since we moved into the Headquarters building. Traffic entering the grounds seems to flow smoothly, the only bottlenecks that I have observed being the Chain Bridge and the traffic light at the Route 123 entrance. We might be able to compress our schedule to eliminate the shift from 0900 to 1730 hours without any great inconvenience.)

3. Howard Osborn pointed out to me that the opening of the Key Building and other additional buildings in Rosslyn will call for receptionists, for which he does not have slots, and for guards, for which he does not have money. I told him that, of course, we have no alternative but to provide these people and that I thought we could provide some relief in both categories.

4. Howard Osborn reported that the Chicago Tribune carried an account of the Director's appearance before the Senate Armed Forces Committee and Defense Appropriations Subcommittee on 11 January which was quite contradictory to what the Director actually said. He has advised [REDACTED] that 25X1A9a he will try to investigate this further if the Director is concerned about it.

25X1A9a 5. Howard Osborn and [REDACTED] were up to brief Bob Bannerman and me on a number of items.

25X1A2d1 a. A defector, [REDACTED] has been in our custody for nine months and is using up a large number of manhours. Howard is exploring the possibility of using contract guards, custodians, etc., to alleviate this situation.

25X1A5a1 b. At the request of DD/P, Howard has continued to act as the contact with Mr. [REDACTED] who recently generated some publicity for the Agency.

FOIAb3d c. [REDACTED] Chief of the Defense Intelligence Agency's Office of Counterintelligence and Security, and [REDACTED] a FOIAb3d civilian assistant, are being briefed by the Office of Security on personnel security procedures. Howard said that Lt. General Joseph F. Carroll,

Director of DIA, thinks that DIA should have its own investigative and clearance procedures. (This may well signal a move on the part of DIA to take over some of these functions from the Services.)

d. Howard reported that [REDACTED] the Office of Finance employee who was charged with indecent exposure, is resigning as of 29 January. He thought that the Office of Personnel has been able to find him another job.

e. Howard reported that [REDACTED] will be in town soon. He would like to volunteer to send a team to [REDACTED] to assist [REDACTED] in his new job for the primary purpose, however, of establishing better rapport with [REDACTED] and being able to get the straight dope from [REDACTED] when necessary.

f. Howard reported that the workload on the [REDACTED] is increasing very substantially and that he expects to use [REDACTED] to a greater extent to alleviate the situation.

6. Jack Earman was in to alert me to the following:

a. Jack said that [REDACTED] will apparently have a sanity hearing in the next day or two. Jack encouraged me to ensure that Mr. Kirkpatrick and Paul Chretien know about this just in case it should hit the press.

b. Jack told me that [REDACTED] had talked with him about Headquarters Regulation [REDACTED] which has a charter for BPAM. Apparently Gerry is going to oppose this very strenuously and told Jack that he thought it was a great intrusion upon the functions of the Inspector General.
