2. This bill would make it possible for the surviving spouse of an employee to regain health insurance coverage under the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program in the event of restoration of a survivor annuity previously terminated because of remarriage. Such a restoration of survivor annuity is currently provided for by law when the remarriage is terminated by death, annulment, or divorce. Unfortunately, however, the surviving spouse is prevented from concurrently regaining health insurance coverage because there is no provision for an annuitant to change his or her health benefits enrollment from not enrolled to enrolled. Passage of HR 11439 would erase this inequity.
