SUBJECT : Official Liaison Officers

1. OJCS does not require continual official liaison with any other government agency in order to conduct its business. To the best of our knowledge, we have not established formally a contact point in another government agency for specific office functions. We receive and occasionally reply to official correspondence from the following persons on ADP matters as shown:

Liaison Officer	Purpose
Harry S. White, Jr. Associate Director for ADP Standards Institute for Computer Science and Technology National Bureau of Standards	ADP Standards Affecting Federal Agencies
Walter W. Haase Deputy Associate Director for Information Systems Office of Management and Budget	ADP Policy Affecting Federal Agencies

2. Naturally, in the normal conduct of our business we communicate with personnel in other government agencies at all levels, officially and unofficially, orally and in writing on a broad range of ADP subjects of mutual interest, but we do not consider such contacts as official liaisons.

SUBJECT: Office of Logistics Contacts in Government

The attached listing of personnel within various Federal departments and agencies represents approved focal points and liaison officers for the Office of Logistics. The assistance they furnish the Agency is as varied as their own occupations. In general, they are called upon to provide assistance to the Agency in the fields of procurement, storage, transportation, construction, and maintenance of government property as well as in the security and legal ramifications of Agency operations.

RECRUITMENT DIVISION

A. Chief, Recruitment Division advises that during his approximately seven months tenure, he established only one official contact with another Executive Agency - NSA. This resulted from the initiative of [redacted] Personnel Recruitment Division, who called to arrange a meeting date to discuss NSA's interest in economists who applied to our Agency for employment but were surplus to our requirements. The Director of Personnel approved the meeting with the understanding that we would only inform Agency applicants of NSA's interest in and need for economists, leaving it to the applicants themselves to initiate contact with NSA. We advised [redacted] office that we were prepared to meet at his pleasure. A firm date has not yet been established.

25X

B. Historically, we have utilized the records of selective service offices and military separation centers to establish contact with prospective employees. In these instances, we were only one of several Federal customers who made use of these records and centers for the same purpose. Names of individuals contacted can be furnished where available.

STAFF PERSONNEL DIVISION

1. The Military Personnel Branch list is attached. While some of the action points are somewhat unusual, e.g., Army and Navy focal point officers are reimbursable, they are not completely unique. They are required to administer both the military personnel assigned to the Agency and the reserve units.

2. The Professional Placement Branch list is also attached. The regular column refers to offices with overall responsibility for programs, such as for the handicapped. The special column refers to a more specific point of contact.

3. The processing assistants in Professional Staffing Branch and Clerical Staffing Branch contact other Government agencies to secure release dates on employees transferring from other agencies to CIA. The Clerical Staffing Branch, in addition, has contact with the Training Center of the Civil Service Commission to arrange training for the Agency's Upward Mobility Program candidates. Clerical Staffing Branch has limited contact with Mrs. Lois Moock, Administrative Officer to the National Security Council. In this connection, Chief, Clerical Staffing Branch is contacted by the FBI to process the necessary NSC security clearances.

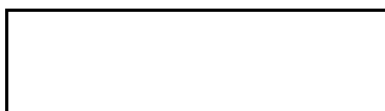

4. Chief, Staff Personnel Division contacts the Bureau of Recruiting and Examining, Civil Service Commission, regarding approval of Entry-on-Duty travel for hard-to-fill occupational categories.

SUBJECT: A List of Names of Official Contacts at Each Executive Agency

The Audit Staff deals with the following two individuals in the Department of Defense on official matters:

Frank Sato, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense, for coordination on audit matters of common concern to the intelligence community.

and, Bernard Lynn, Chief, Defense Contract Audit Agency, for coordination on the audit of industrial contracts.

SUBJECT: A List of Names of Official Contacts at Each Executive Agency

Intelligence Officers of the DDI routinely contact their counterparts in other executive agencies. In practice such liaison is extensive and occurs daily. It may consist of coordination of finished intelligence production prior to its publication or exchanges of information and views on substantive issues of common concern. Because these activities are considered normal and a prerequisite for the effective functioning of an Intelligence Officer, the DDI maintains neither a special organizational component to coordinate this contact procedure nor accounting procedures to record such contacts.

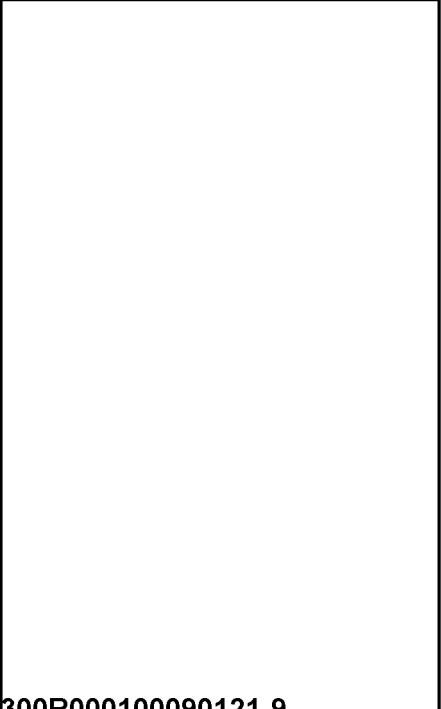

SUBJECT: A List of Names of Official Contacts at Each
Executive Agency

The DDS&T maintains no official established liaison with specific individuals in any other government agency to handle the affairs of the DDS&T. We have numerous working relationships at every level in the chain of command. The working relationships usually deal with a specific subject and involve analyst-to-analyst counter-part discussions.
