ADVANCED INTELLIGENCE SEMINAR (See pages 17 and 42 in the OTR Catalog)

The ninth running of the Advanced Intelligence Seminar (AIS) will be held from 10 May through 31 May 1972. The AIS is a middle and senior level course designed for experienced personnel from all Directorates and the Office of the Director. (It is not to be confused with the new Senior Seminar, nor is it intended for officers who have taken the Midcareer Course within the last three years.)

The Advanced Intelligence Seminar places major emphasis upon:

- (1) the dynamic aspects of the changing international and domestic scenes which have an impact upon U.S. national security policy and intelligence;
- (2) current and future developments and problems facing the Agency and the Intelligence Community;
- (3) an examination of the intelligence response to selected substantive problems, and changing needs and resources.

The AIS enables class members to dialogue frankly with guest speakers and fellow students. Each student is expected to participate actively. To help achieve this objective, the class is limited to 25 students.

Specific information regarding the ninth running of the AIS follows:
