II. OTHER ACTIVITIES

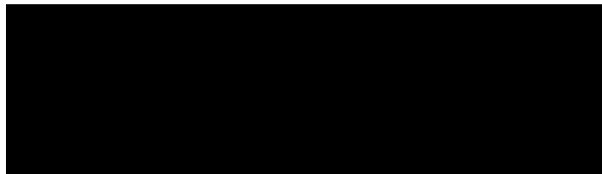

1. The JOT's in the Intelligence Production Course are currently being briefed by and are touring the intelligence production components of the USIB member agencies. In connection with the Office of Naval Intelligence, the students and faculty toured the Navy Photographic Interpretation Center on 12 December. The tour provided an "on the spot" look at the actual production process of Naval Intelligence. Of particular interest, was the unit working with the Tiros Satellite photography.

2. The afternoon of December 12 the students received an excellent briefing on the new Defense Intelligence Agency. The briefing was given by Air Force [redacted] an excellent briefer, and was characterized by its sincerity, enthusiasm, and frankness. The briefing was current to the extent of including the developments of the Tuesday morning staff meeting of the DIA. [redacted] is the head of the DIA Current Intelligence and Indications Center, the only component of DIA presently in production. The briefing was held in the DIA's Indications center which was formerly the Air Force Indications Center, a very impressive facility. This was one of the finest briefings the Intelligence Production Faculty has had to date.
