25X1SAM ACTIVITY - EGYPT AND SYRIA

1. The deployment of Soviet surface-to-air missile sites in Egypt and Syria has continued to increase since March 1970. This report presents the status of the sites as determined by interpretation of the latest photography [redacted]. Information is current through [redacted]. Figure 1 is a location map which indicates the regions of SAM deployment in Egypt and Syria. Figures 2 through 5 portray graphically the locations of all known sites and T-shaped structures; these are numbered to correspond with line item entries in Tables 1, 2, and 3.

25X1EGYPT

2. Totals of 93 SA-2 sites and 18 SA-3 sites have been identified on photography. This represents an increase of 18 SA-2 sites and 10 SA-3 sites from [redacted]

3. All SA-2 sites have been identified as confirmed sites. Of the 18 SA-3 sites, 14 have been identified as confirmed, three were probable, and one was possible. Two previously reported possible SA-3 sites at Al Iskandariyah (Table 1, items 79 and 89) have now been identified as SA-2 sites. Three SA-2 sites (Al Iskandariyah A24-2, Sawhaj A31-2, and Al Ismailiyah C19-2) have been deleted from the listing. One was subsequently identified as an AAA site; the other two were abandoned and returned to cultivation.

4. Thirty-three T-shaped structures have been identified. Four now have been confirmed as SA-2 sites and one as a probable SA-3 site under construction.

SYRIA

5. Six new SA-2 sites were identified on photography of June 1970 (Mission 1110). All six sites were unoccupied and four of them were in various stages of construction. The total known SA-2 sites in Syria is nine.
