SUMMARY

Bereza Army Barracks Yaselda is located in the southwest outskirts of Bereza (52-32N 024-59E) on the north side of the Bereza-Kobrin highway. This installation is not rail served; however, the Brest-Ivantsevichi rail line passes 3 kilometers (km) north of the area. The Bereza Airfield is located 6.5 km northwest, another barracks 5 km north-northwest, and a SAM support facility 1.8 km south-southeast.

This installation, comprised of three separate areas, covers approximately 145 acres and includes one administration building, three barracks, nine support buildings, five storage buildings in the main secured barracks area, an equipment storage/maintenance area with two vehicle sheds, four vehicle maintenance buildings with four support buildings in a second equipment storage/maintenance area 500 meters north of the main area, and five possible ammunition storage buildings (two of which appear revetted) in an area approximately 1.5 km northwest of the main area. Training facilities include a parade ground, a small arms firing range and an open area possibly for infantry-type training.

This area is covered by [redacted] TALENT photography and [redacted] KEYHOLE missions [redacted] Com- parative analysis revealed the same general level of usage over this period. The only change observed is the construction of a possible ammunition storage area on a former general storage installation site.
