Polish T-55 Mine Clearing Tank

COMMENT: The modification to the T-55 tank consists of bathtub-like boxes mounted over the treads on the rear deck of the tank. Each box contains an explosive cord attached to a small rocket. When fired, the rocket trails the explosive cord across the minefield. The T-55 mine clearing tank has been seen with a tank regiment and could appear with other front line units. Also, the boxes containing the rocket and explosive cord could be mounted on other vehicles.
