FOREWORD

This geographic study of Bulgaria is divided into three main parts:

PART I

An alphabetical listing of:

1. All present populated places and garas (railroad stations),
2. Obshtinas (third-order administrative-territorial division),
3. Okoliyas (second-order administrative-territorial division), and
4. Okrŭgs (first-order administrative-territorial division) to which the populated places or garas are administratively and/or geographically attached, as well as
5. Their coordinates based on the 1944 Deutsche Heereskarte of Bulgaria (scale 1:100,000).

PART II

An administrative breakdown of Bulgaria by Okrŭg, Okoliya and Obshtina. The following is an explanation of the current administrative and territorial organization of the country:

1. Bulgaria is divided into 12 Okrŭgs and Sofia City. The Okrŭg People's Councils (Okruznyi Narodni Sŭveti) are the elected local governments with headquarters in their respective Okrŭg centers. Each Okrŭg includes several Okoliyas. The Okoliya People's Councils (Okoliyski Narodni Sŭveti), with headquarters in Okoliya centers, are subordinate to their respective Okrŭg People's Councils.
2. Sofia City, which is equivalent to an Okrŭg, is governed by the Sofia Urban People's Council (Sofiyiski Gradski Narodni Sŭvet), which is on a par with other Okrŭg People's Councils. Sofia City is divided into six Rayons, which are equivalent to Okoliyas since their Rayon People's Councils (Rayonni Narodni Sŭveti) have the same jurisdiction as Okoliya People's Councils.

Approved For Release 2006/03/06 : CIA-RDP79-01009A001200060006-7

3. Each Okoliya and Rayon includes several Obshtinas, which in turn include several villages (sela) and/or hamlets (makhali) and small hamlets (kolibi). Areas of Rayons which are located in Sofia City proper include wards (kvartali) instead of Obshtinas. Certain Urban Obshtinas also include Rural Obshtinas, as will be seen presently.
4. All Okrug centers, except Sofia City, are at the same time Okoliya and Obshtina centers; all Okoliya centers are at the same time Obshtina centers. Okrugs are named after their respective Okrug centers and Okoliyas after their respective Okoliya centers. Most Obshtinas are named after their respective Obshtina centers, but a few Rural Obshtinas have names which are different from the names of their Obshtina centers.
5. Each Obshtina has any one of these five types of local governments:
 - a. An Urban People's Council (Gradski Narodni Suvet) - with a small town as its center - which is directly subordinate to the Okoliya People's Council;
 - b. An Urban People's Council - with a town of greater significance as its center - which is directly subordinate to the Okrug People's Council and whose Obshtina is not in an Okoliya;
 - c. An Urban People's Council - with a town of greater significance as its center - which is directly subordinate to the Okrug People's Council but whose Obshtina is situated in an Okoliya;
 - d. A Rural People's Council (Selski Narodni Suvet) - with a village as its center - which is directly subordinate to the Okoliya People's Council; and
 - e. A Rural People's Council - with a village as its center - which is directly subordinate to an Urban People's Council of the type described in paragraphs 5 b and 5 c.
6. Obshtinas with towns whose Urban People's Councils are of the type described in paragraph 5 b are:
 - a. Dimitrovgrad in Khaskovo Okrug;
 - b. Gabrovo in Turnovo Okrug;
 - c. Malko Turnovo in Burgas Okrug;
 - d. Michurin in Burgas Okrug; and
 - e. Plovdiv in Plovdiv Okrug.
1. As of 29 May 1956 Breznik and Godech in Sofia Okrug should be added to this list.

7. Obshtinas with towns whose Urban People's Councils are of the type described in paragraph 5 c are:

- a. Burgas in Burgas Okrug;
- b. Dimitrovo in Sofia Okrug;
- c. Kazanluk in Stara Zagora Okrug;
- d. Khaskovo in Khaskovo Okrug;
- e. Kolarovgrad in Kolarovgrad Okrug;
- f. Kurdzhali in Khaskovo Okrug;
- g. Pazardzhik in Plovdiv Okrug;
- h. Ruse in Ruse Okrug;
- i. Sliven in Stara Zagora Okrug;
- j. Stalin in Stalin Okrug;
- k. Stara Zagora in Stara Zagora Okrug;
- l. Tolbukhin in Stalin Okrug;
- m. Turnovo in Turnovo Okrug;
- n. Vratsa in Vratsa Okrug; and
- o. Yambol in Stara Zagora Okrug.

Thus there are 21 Obshtinas in Bulgaria with towns whose Urban People's Councils are directly subordinate to their respective Okrug People's Councils.¹

8. The following is the present list of 93 Okolias, 21 Obshtinas (mentioned in paragraphs 6 and 7),¹ and 6 Rayons in Bulgaria by Okrug:

PROVISIONAL

PART III

An alphabetical listing of:

1. Place names no longer in use keyed to their current names and their Obshtinas and/or Okoliyas; and
2. Bulgarian spelling variations of place names still in use and their Obshtinas and/or Okoliyas.

TRANSLITERATION

The following table, adopted by the Board on Geographic Names, is used in transliterating names from Bulgarian sources:

Bulgarian	Transliteration	Bulgarian	Transliteration
а	a	п	p
б	b	р	r
в	v	с	s
г	g	т	t
д	d	у	u
е	e	ф	f
ж	zh	х	kh
з	z	ц	ts

о	o	я	ya

SOURCES

1. Only original Bulgarian sources, including newspapers, periodicals, and monographs up to 28 May 1956, were used in compiling the lists of new and old names of populated places and garas (railroad stations). It should be noted that:
 - a. Where place names could not be directly located on the Deutsche Heereskarte, they were plotted on the Heereskarte on the basis of their approximate location on the pre-World War II P. Atanasov map at a scale of 1:400,000;
 - b. The spelling of certain place names could not be standardized because even the Bulgarian official gazette spells the names of certain places differently at different times; in such instances, the spelling of a place name which appeared most frequently was used in Part I and Part II of this study, while the variations were entered in Part III; and
 - c. Both Part I and Part II of this study may include some old place names in addition to the names which may have replaced them because in such cases no official information has been received as to the proper changes.
2. Revisions of this study will be made periodically. Changes, such as those of 29 May 1956, which affect about 100 villages, have not been included in this work but will appear in later revisions.

LEGEND TO SYMBOLS USED

- # Denotes an Urban Obshtina with a town whose Urban People's Council is directly subordinate to the Okrūg People's Council. Such Urban Obshtinas in addition to controlling the town involved have villages directly subordinate to them. In some instances an Urban Obshtina will also have jurisdiction over one or more Rural Obshtinas (i.e. groups of villages with an administrative center).
- ⌘ Denotes a Rayon, not an Okoliya.
- * Denotes an Obshtina coordinate or an Okoliya coordinate because the place name could neither be located nor plotted on the Deutsche Heereskarte.
