Communist China Administrative Atlas

Jack:

This is the companion to the Communist China Map Folio we produced last year. As you will remember we distributed several hundred copies of it to the Academic Community with excellent results.

We plan to make normal distribution of the new atlas within government immediately. We also plan to request permission to distribute outside of government sometime early this fall. [REDACTED] has been fully advised of this project and will work with us on preparing distribution lists. If approved, we will use DCS channels again. Jim Murphy tells us they got excellent mileage out of the first one.
