Lieutenant General Eugene F. Tighe, Jr.
Deputy Director, Defense Intelligence
Agency
Department of Defense
Washington, D.C. 20330

Dear General Tighe:

I wish to thank you for your participation in the seventh running of the CIA Senior Seminar. Your presentation on the Defense Intelligence Agency was a valuable contribution to the program and greatly appreciated by the group.

Many of the Seminar participants are in positions of considerable responsibility; as a group, they include future top managers within CIA. Some are currently participating in joint activities with different elements of the Department and the military services, and others will certainly engage in future collaborative efforts. Your frank answers to questions, in addition to your formal remarks, were especially appreciated for helping them gain a better understanding of the mutual problems confronting us.

I hope you share our view that your presentation was valuable to both our organizations, and that your schedule will permit you to meet with another Senior Seminar in the future.

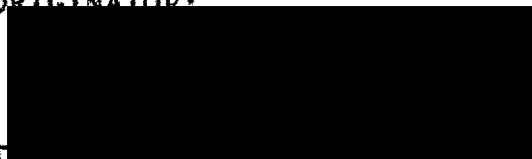

Sincerely,

/s/John F. Blake
