EAST GERMANY REGAINS CONTROL OF SOVIET ENTERPRISES

TRANSFER SAG PLANTS -- Leipziger Volkszeitung, No 144, 24 Jun 50

Among the 23 SAG enterprises turned over to the East German Government are nine which belong to the chemical process industry. They are: the United Gothania Works, in Hoerselgau (Thuringen), the Thuringen Hose Weaving Mill, in Waltershausen, the Gotha Rubber Goods Factory (formerly Bloedner and Vierschrodt), the Neuhaus (Thuringen) Porcelain Factory, the roofing-board factories in Schkeudnitz and Ammendorf, the Steinach and Haselbach glass factories, and the Meissen Porcelain Factory. These nine factories employ a total of 5,550 workers, including office personnel.

GERMAN ADMINISTRATION GETS AGRICULTURAL ENTERPRISES -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 158, 9 Jul 50

Six agricultural enterprises in Osthavelland, which had been under the Soviet Control Commission's administration, were turned over to the Kyritz Land Association of People-Owned Enterprises. The enterprises have a good stock of high-grade breeding animals, among them 2,500 pigs, 600 horned cattle, 41 horses, and 700 fowl. A number of tractors were also turned over to the German administration.

RETURN SAG MINE TO EAST GERMANY -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 151, 1 Jul 50

The "Wolframit Mine" in Zschorlau is one of the 23 SAG enterprises which have been returned to East German administration by the Soviet authorities.

EAST GERMANY TAKES OVER TWO SAG FACTORIES -- Volksstimme, No 141, 21 Jun 50

Two former SAG enterprises, the Puhla Electrical Fitting Plant and the Suhl Electrical Equipment Plant, were turned over to East Germany. The people-owned Suhl Electrical Equipment Plant started production in 1945 with 275 workers, and its present 1,000 workers produce high-quality electrical equipment for vehicle construction.
