COMMUNISTS SHOWER PROPAGANDA LEAFLETS ON UN TROOPS BEFORE PEACE TALKS

Kumjin, 13 July (by special wire from a Chung-yang She correspondent with the Peace Motorcade) -- The Communist Party has already started an all-out propaganda offensive designed to weaken UN forces in the cease-fire talks at Kaesong. After preparations for the conference were under way, an unidentified biplane scattered leaflets over the rear of UN lines near the western front. The mysterious craft first appeared on the eve of the opening day of the conference. It flew along the Imjin River and then disappeared in the darkness.

The leaflets contained in both the English and Korean languages a summary of Malik's peace proposal and a short editorial insisting on the demands for world peace outlined by the Communists.

The first person to discover the circular on 9 July was a Sergeant P'ai-sai-fu [apparently a Chinese approximation of a non-Chinese name], who told the correspondent of his great alarm because the leaflet included only Malik's proposal and no other. He said that he had seen enemy circulars in the past, but that there was a slight difference this time [no further explanation given].

According to an unofficial report, similar mystery planes have been active in other regions on the Korean front since preparations for the peace talks began. Observers are of the opinion that this demonstrates further enemy cunning intended to weaken the morale of UN troops.
