1. A naval ammunition store (No. 3 on sketch map, page 2) was located in the Old Fort 4.3 kilometers south of Lepaya's South Mole. It covered an area of approximately 300 by 300 meters, and was surrounded by a barbed wire fence. Naval sentries patrolled it in between the bunkers and along the fence.
2. South of the Old Fort was a military training ground with obstacles (No. 4 on sketch map). It measured approximately 700 by 400 meters, and was not surrounded by any fence. On this ground were various trestles and hurdles for training in getting over, under, and through obstacles. Training was carried out from time to time, but not daily.
3. Hay stacks for horses of the communications troops (No. 5 on sketch map) were located in the northeast corner of the training ground. In the autumn, hay was brought there from the collective farms in the neighborhood, and usually piled in five or six big stacks, which were generally used by the spring. In summer the ground was vacant.
