Submarine Training

- About 60 men of the special submarine course currently under way at Parow, left on 14 February 1953 to undergo a six weeks' training in one of the four submarines recently delivered to Sassnitz. The craft is to proceed to sea between Gdynia and the East Prussian coast, and according to statements made by the head of the Parow training section, Major Heinz Neumeister on 15 February 1953, may put in to the harbor of Pillau.

- The training on board the submarine is to be carried out by Russian officers, but two Seepo officers accompanied the men, namely Ober Leutnant Walter Seidenzahl and Ober Leutnant Horst Schulze. Of these two officers the former will conduct gunnery training on board the submarine which is fitted with one single 2 cm mounting only. Ober Leutnant Schulze is taking part in the trip in order to consolidate the experience he formerly gained in the U-boat Section of the Kriegsmarine.

Seagoing Training from Parow

- All the craft attached to the training school at Parow were made ready for seagoing training by 15 February. Crafts [redacted] will be used in the main for the training of mining personnel. According to statements by the Commanding Officer of the school, these craft will subsequently join the R-boats of the R & KS Division for the carrying out of the forthcoming minesweeping operation. for the carrying out of the forthcoming minesweeping operation.
