the surveying and erection of triangulation points which had started in the fall of 1953 with the cooperation of Soviet experts was completed. The surveying covered the entire area east of the line Uckermuende - Pasewalk - Prenzlau - Joachimsthal - Bernau - East Berlin - Koenigswusterhausen - Finsterwalde - and the course of the Elbe River between Riesa and the Czechoslovakian border. During the same period, triangulation points were made in those parts of Polish occupied Germany east of the Oder which could be seen from East Germany. Surveying activities and the erection of triangulation points was to be continued in 1955. By the end of the year the area east of the line Barth - Demmin - Neubrandenburg - Neuruppin - Brandenburg - Wittenberg was scheduled to be covered.
