THIS IS UNCLASSIFIED INFORMATION

1. The meetings were taken up in discussion of resolutions presented for consideration. The subjects covered were specific problems peculiar only to pulleys and belts. No technical papers were presented.
2. The Soviet delegate that attended this section of the meeting, Michail Michajlovits Saverin, like all the Curtin area delegates, was listed only as a member of the standardization committee, although it seems unlikely they are all primarily employed in the Bureau. There was nothing said that would indicate what other interest he had.
3. He did not pretend to speak English but was accompanied by an interpreter. When she hesitated while translating for him, he would invariably prompt her, in Russian, showing that he could follow her.
4. The resolutions suggested by him were not well conceived and were generally voted down promptly. For example, in the USSR, the length of an endless V-belt is taken as the inside length. In other countries the pitch length is used, which is measured at about the center of the cross section. Saverin proposed that the inside length be made standard but the resolution was naturally voted down immediately. He took all such rejections without any sign of resentment.
5. I had no opportunity to talk with him, or the Polish delegates, outside the meetings as they seemed to vanish at the end of the day.
6. The interpreter, Miss (fnv) Mikhailova, spoke fluent Oxford English and handled even the technical translations very ably.
7. I was seated next to Z Dobrowolski, a Polish delegate. He spoke English easily and we had several occasions for "small talk" but nothing significant developed. I was perhaps unduly apprehensive without embarrassing him as every time we found time to chat, Miss Mikhailova seemed to be listening. The other Polish delegate, M R Jankowski, attended irregularly as he was trying to cover several committees. Neither of them took any part in the discussions and confined their activities to listening and voting.
8. Mr Dobrowolski is a Professor at the University of Warsaw. From limited conversations, I would class him as an able technical man, friendly toward everyone.

ORGANISATION INTERNATIONALE DE NORMALISATIONBRIEF MINUTES on theMorning Session, June 13, 1955.

Mr. Hallström opened the session by welcoming the delegates and expressing his best wishes for the success of the Stockholm meeting. He also gave details about the arrangements for the delegates.

His proposal to appoint M. Duval, president of the French delegation, as president for the present session of ISO/TC 41 was unanimously accepted.

The President thanked M. Hallström for the hearty welcome extended by Sweden to the ISO delegates and expressed the hope that the third meeting of the Committee would be a successful one and would contribute to the progress of the task undertaken. He expressed his satisfaction at the election of the United States as a P. member of the Committee and of Bulgaria as an O member. The President welcomed the delegates from USSR, Finland and Poland who were taking part for the first time in the meetings of ISO/TC 41.

At the President's request the secretary then read the list of delegates and observers.

The President informed the Committee that he had been asked to express M. Saint Leger's regrets for his inability to attend as he was attending a meeting of the ISO Council.

The Committee then appointed an editing Committee including MM. Bowyer, Drew, Saverin, Hannover and the secretary.

AGENDA.

After an exchange of views the draft agenda for the day 41 (Sec. 61) 106 was adopted without modifications.

However, an unofficial working group was formed to study the observations made by several delegations on the draft ISO recommendations 58 & 59 to help the Committee to reach agreement on the final form of these before the end of the plenary meeting.

This working group consists of representatives of the following delegations: United Kingdom, U.S.A., Sweden, Germany, France, Belgium and Norway.

ISO/TC 41 (Stockholm 1955 - 2) 113 E

BRIEF MINUTES on the AFTERNOON SESSION On Monday, June 13th 1955.

Item No.4 The Chairman gave a brief report on the work of the Committee since its last meeting.

Item No. 5 1.a Verification of pulley grooves.

A very important discussion was started on the respective merits of methods described in documents 41 (sec. No.61 and 101, at the end of which it was decided to adopt both documents; the method described in the first document to be used only if the pulley was not perfectly cylindrical.

At the request of the Belgian delegation it was decided not to prevent the use of other methods which might be developed in future, and at the request of the Swiss delegation it was decided to entrust to Working group No.1 the relating of tolerances on the parallelism of a pulley.

The Swiss delegation reserved its agreement about the decision taken by the Committee to adopt a tolerance of $\pm 30'$ on the groove angle.

The Committee then decided to modify and clarify the text and the titles of document No. 41 (sec.) 101.

Inches values will be given in the table (page 3)

The drafting of the resulting resolutions was entrusted to the Drafting Committee.

The President declared the meetings closed at 17.00.

BRIEF MINUTES OF THE MEETINGS

on Tuesday June 14th 1955.

Morning session, June 14th.

Item No.V 1 b. Quality and finish of pulleys.

A discussion was started on the advantages of establishing a minimum standard for quality and finish of pulleys (material and machining). In the course of this discussion, the work done by the technical committees of ISO with materials was mentioned.

The Committee made the following recommendation :

Recommendation: The attention of the secretariats of committee ISO/TC 17, 25, 26, 57 and 79 is drawn on the importance attached by the Committee ISO/TC 41 to their work, in order that the said Committee may be able to find in their work the necessary basis for the study of a specification of the material and finish pulleys used for power transmission.

The Secretariat was requested to transmit this recommendation to the secretariat of the above mentioned Committees.

Until the recommendation has been put into effect, the Committee adopted proposal B 1 of Document ISO/TC 41 (Secretariat - 54) 99.

Item V.1c. Lengths of belts.

The French delegation, supported by the United Kingdom delegation recalled the conditions in which the working group was led to suggest the adoption of the second basic principle mentioned in the "comments" on page 4 of document (Sec.) 99, for fixing a scale of standard lengths.

The German and Soviet delegations wished however, that a standard series of preferred values should be adopted for inside lengths.

The Chairman and some delegates drew attention to the wording of resolutions no.11 and 15.

The meeting ended at 12 noon.

Afternoon session, June 14th

Adoption of brief minutes for June 13th: 41 (Stockholm 2) 113.

- 1) The Committee agreed with two elucidations for which mention in the text had been requested, by the Belgian delegate who had initiated the discussions.
 - Further study of the checking of the concentricity of the pitch circumference.
 - Stressing the use of possible future better methods of checking the pitch diameter of pulley grooves being found.

ISO/TC 41 (Stockholm - 5) 117 E
Jun 1955.

- 2) Instead of the term "parallelism" the Committee adopted the term "cylindricity" in the English text (page 2).
- 3) The Chairman drew attention to the unsatisfactory wording of the second part of the paragraph under the heading of "agenda" in the brief minutes, document 113. He stressed that the draft ISO recommendations no.58 and 59 were being examined at the moment by the ISO General Secretariat which had not completed its enquiry. Therefore, at the present session, the Committee could take no decision on the results of this enquiry. The unofficial working group would report on their work and their report would be submitted to the Secretariat. The Secretariat, taking into account the final results of the enquiry, would eventually transmit to the Committee in writing all amendments suggested for the present text.

Item V 1 c. Length of belts.

The Committee resumed the study interrupted at the morning session. Several delegations (in particular United States, United Kingdom, Belgium and France) emphasised the importance of taking into account the number of existing installations and the large number of tools being used for manufacture. They insisted also on the necessity of standardizing the pitch length in order to ensure interchangeability.

The German delegation distributed document no.119 in which is given a suggested complete standards system for belt lengths.

The Committee adopted resolution no.C (the Swiss delegation having strict instructions on this point, abstaining).

The Soviet delegation reserved their attitude on this resolution which will however be taken into consideration in revising Soviet standards.

Manufacturing tolerances on belt lengths.

An exchange of views took place on the various proposals and Resolution D was subsequently adopted.

The United Kingdom delegation expressed their disagreement with this resolution as British industry consider that plus tolerances (as given in document 103) are insufficient for the longer lengths.

Tolerances for belts of the same set.

Resolution E was adopted after the United States delegation had explained their motive for altering the corresponding table in the American standards.

Item V 1 d. . The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Item V 2 a. Resolution F was adopted after a short debate (with the abstention of Denmark and the United States.)

Item V 2 b. The Committee heard with great interest a brief preliminary report of the U.S. delegation on the new formula for transmissible power adopted by the American Standards Associations.

The meeting was concluded at 17.15.

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR STANDARDIZATION

Drafts of resolutions adopted at the sessions on June 14th 1955.

RESOLUTION B.

✓ Quality of pulleys, including finish and balance.

The delegates present, recognizing the importance of the quality of the material for pulleys, decided unanimously that Working Group No.1 be requested to study the minimum physical properties proposed by France in document 103 and by the United Kingdom in document 110 and any other information submitted by members.

They also agreed to refer back the question of finish and balance of pulleys to Working Groupe No.1 and to ask it to draw up suitable recommendations

RESOLUTION C.

✓ Length of V-belts.

The delegations present with the exception of the Swiss delegation agree that the principle adopted by the Working Group (see document ISO/TC 41(Secretariat-54) 99) which is that the the values of the lengths of V-belts taken in conjunction with tolerances, being chosen those common to the majority of countries or approximate closely to them should continue to be followed so that the values from a series with suitable increments and that the Working Group be requested to propose corresponding values for belts of pitch-width 85,19 and 27 mm.

The delegations also desire that notice should be taken in doing this work of documents (UK-3) 110 and (Germany 2) 119, among others.

RESOLUTION D.

MANUFACTURING TOLERANCES ON THE LENGTHS OF V-BELTS.

✓ The delegations present excepting the United Kingdom which voted against, decided to adopt the manufacturing tolerances on the lengths of V-belts given in document ISO/TC 41 (Secretariat -58) 103.

RESOLUTION E.

✓ Lengths of V-Belts in the same set.

The delegations present agree to adopt, for tolerances on the lengths of belts in the same set, the values which appear in document ISO/TC 41/GTI(USA-3)30 E, in place of those given in Resolution No.16.

ISO/TC 41 (Stockholm-6) 118 E

RESOLUTION F.

Conditions of measurement of length of belts of $l_p = 8.5$ mm

The delegations present agree to adopt the following conditions when measuring the length of belts with $l_p = 8.5$ mm.

Measuring tension: 11 kg (or 24 pounds)

Pitch circumference of the measuring pulley: 180 mm
(or 7 inches)

RESOLUTION G.

Grooves of small section.

The delegations present agreed (Denmark and the USA abstaining) to standardize one additional section for V-belts and pulleys and that this shall have a pitch width of 53 mm (0.21 in.)
