OLC 75-2135
3 September 1975

Honorable John Sparkman, Chairman
Committee on Foreign Relations
United States Senate
Washington, D. C. 20510

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I have been concerned for some time as to how I can best provide the Congress with intelligence on significant world developments. As you know, I am personally committed to providing intelligence information to as many members of Congress as possible, consistent with my other responsibilities as Director of Central Intelligence. With this in mind, I have asked our analysts to tailor a special Intelligence Check List for Congress which will provide members of the Committee with the essential information of interest to them in the briefest and most informative format. I am forwarding the first issue of this publication today in the belief that members will find the new format more suitable to their needs.

Sincerely,

SIGNED
