Sacretion of the great

23 November 1953

On November 11, immediately after the meeting of the OCB, I spoke to about the above project and drew him a rough chart of what was entailed and the risks and benefits. I told him that we proposed to staff the matter out in detail with General Ridgway and pointed out that it was a matter in which vas equally interested and was bearing his share of the cost.
After consideration said that as far as was con-
