Rattling the Sabre 'Behind Enemy Lines'

By MIKE NEWBERRY

It is not easy to coo as a dove of peace if you have a dagger behind your teeth.

That is the stance of the U.S. Army Reserve's "Special Forces" units who are undergoing stepped-up training in sabotage and guerrilla tactics and propaganda "behind enemy lines in time of war in order to train, supply, and direct guerrilla operations," reports the July-August issue of "The Army Reservist."

"Operations conducted by Special Forces trained guerrilla units," notes "The Army Reservist," "will be primarily directed against enemy rear areas. . ."

These nefarious operations consist of:

- "Military operations—raids, ambushes of enemy military elements and destruction of enemy military supplies"; and

- The organizing of "controlled guerrillas" that are "friendly" to the behind the lines invaders.

"Policy and direction for Special Forces activities come from the Office of the Special Warfare Division", "The Army Reservist" reports. This office is directly responsible to the Department of the Army, and thus to the high command.

Incredibly and callously boasting that orders for this stepped up activity and activating of sabotage units were issued on March 21, 1960, Army propagandists reveal that this policy was put into effect two months before the summit conference in May!

This "Damn the Summit!" attitude of the Pentagon sheds further light on the bellicose, warlike acts of the brass hats in Paris.

While Washington talked peace, in Paris and Geneva, it hid behind its innocent, "Who me?" smile, not only the U-2 provocation, but a devious policy of deliberate war planning complete with Quisling and guerrilla hallucinations.

The 316th Special Forces Detachment is typical of how these sabotage units plan to work.

According to "The Army Reservist" this unit is trained "to act as paratroopers operate behind enemy lines and acquire any necessary additional skills." It does not say what all these "additional skills" are, but it does say they include: "knowledge of tactics, techniques, weapons, demolitions, communications, and foreign languages."

Knowledge of a foreign language (which one?) is a requirement for volunteers, for propaganda is one of the main weapons of sabotage work, it is reported.

"The mission of the 316th," reports "The Army Reservist," "is to penetrate deep into enemy territory in order to develop and employ native guerrilla forces." That is to establish Quisling-type units.

Composed "entirely" of Washington, D. C. men and government employes, who are in the Army Reserve, this unit is trained "in every aspect of guerrilla warfare."

One wonders if any State De-

"BEHIND ENEMY LINE" guerrilla tactics demonstrated by Sgt. Richard Miller, of the U. S. Army Reserve "Special Forces". In private life Sgt. Miller is an employee of the FBI.

partment officials, who are supposedly in charge of shaping President Eisenhower's "peace policy," are members of the supposedly "peace-loving" unit in their spare time?

An Ear-Witness Account of a Dulles-Ike Chat

By ART SHIELDS

ALLEN DULLES, the "Master Spy," is a sort of acting President. So James Reston of the New York Times once suggested. But Ike has the title. Ike meets the press. Ike faces Khrushchev. And Ike has to get briefings from Dulles.

We must be frank at this point. We didn't hear the latest briefing. No reporter was admitted. We just did the best we could. And the reader may believe this report — from our telepathic recorder — at his own risk.

The scene of the briefing was a spacious "cabin" in the Colorado Rockies, where Ike likes to rough it in comfort. A big log was blazing in the fireplace. Guns, golf clubs and fishing tackle hung from the walls. Tall glasses stood on the heavy oak table. But Ike looked unhappy as the following conversation began:

A BAD TIME

IKE: I had a bad time today, Mr. Dulles. A church delegation got in. I couldn't get rid of 'em. It was a perfect day for fishing, but they didn't care. They just fretted and fretted about our overseas bases. Said the bases made nothing but trouble. Said there wouldn't be any trouble about Powers and the RB-47 if we hadn't those bases. Said they'd get us into war, and the American people don't want to die. Said we ought to give 'em up — can't hold 'em long anyway.

DULLES (sternly): How did they get past the Secret Service, Mr. President?

IKE: It's hard to stop preachers, Mr. Dulles.

DULLES: We ought to replace the Secret Service with my CIA boys. They can spot a pacifist a mile away.

IKE: But what about those bases, Mr. Dulles? Khrushchev will be talking about 'em in the United Nations next week. Can we hold 'em? That's what I want to know.

DULLES: We got to hold them, Mr. President. We can't destroy Communism without them.

HOW CAN WE DO IT?

IKE: I want to destroy Communism as much as you do, Mr. Dulles. But how can we do it?

They're getting stronger all the time.

DULLES: We first have to locate the targets, Mr. President, to know where to strike. The Russians and Chinese are very secretive. They don't give us any military maps. And we can't photograph targets without bases to fly from.

IKE: I agree with you, Mr. Dulles. I always said you're the smartest man I ever knew, outside of your brother. And you can't say I didn't back you up in the U-2 business. I backed you although it put Dick and me in the scup. But I can't help feeling a little let down, Mr. Dulles. You told me they couldn't hit Powers at sixty-eight thousand feet.

DULLES (flushing): I didn't know they had that new rocket, Mr. President. But we'll lick them next time. We'll get a plane that can fly at one hundred thousand feet.

THE CIA CODE

IKE: But you said Powers would never let himself be taken alive and confess.

DULLES: That wasn't my fault, Mr. President. The tramp didn't follow the CIA code. We gave him a poisoned pin, and put a stick of TNT under his seat. He saved his miserable life instead. But don't worry. We'll have a better man next time.

IKE: I don't know. Look what happened to the RF-47 this summer. The Russians say those fellows confessed.

The telepathic recording broke down at this point. When it came on again the Master Spy's emphasis had shifted.

DULLES: We've got a million men overseas, Mr. President. They're scattered all over the world in eighty-one bases in sixty-five countries.

IKE: Maybe they're scattered too much. In a war — —

"NO MORE REVOLUTIONS"

DULLES: They're not just there for war against Russia and China, Mr. President. That's part of it, of course. They also have other jobs to do. The people in those countries are getting out of hand. Our Army, Navy and Air Force have a duty — —

IKE: A duty to keep the people down, Mr. Dulles.

DULLES: Right, Mr. President.

We can't have any more revolutions.

IKE (heartily): Right! They got to stop. You know, Mr. Dulles, each revolution seems worse than the last. That's what Rockefeller tells me. He says we're losing a billion in Cuba.

DULLES (bitter): Some of it was mine, Mr. President. The Schroder bank — Foster and I were in it, you know — lost two big sugar plantations. When I think of those four hundred thousand acres I get sick.

"THE OLD ARMY WAY"

IKE (clenching his fists): I'd like to settle Castro's hash in the old Army way. But they won't let me do it. They say there'd be more Latin American revolutions. And then those blasted rockets! It's a terribly frustrating would, Mr. Dulles.

DULLES: We'll get Castro yet, Mr. President. My boys are busy. They're doing an inside job in the CIA way.

IKE: I know that, Mr. Dulles. I never begrudged you the billion a year — or is it two billions — that you're getting. But still — (Another breakdown! I'll have to turn the old machine in. I lost an hour before the psycho-mechanic arrived, and Ike's though again.)

IKE: I still don't feel good about those bases, Mr. Dulles. I don't know how to answer Khrushchev. I wish you'd give me a written report. But please make it brief. I'm going on vacation. The strain of this job is too great. I got to get away from it all.

(Our contact broke off again. It didn't come back until Ike was dreaming in his billowy bed of the jolly vacation when he'd "get away from it all." And the following meditation came from the guest room on our telepathic tape:

"I WONDER IF — —"

DULLES: Poor old Ike. He was nice to work with. He never butted in. . . I wonder who's coming next. I wonder, I wonder if it matters much to me. I'm as good as Republican as Foster, I guess, but I never had any trouble with Truman. He set up the Central Intelligence Agency and gave me my first CIA, job. Well . . . Presidents may come and Presidents may go, but the FBI and the CIA go on . . .

(And the Master Spy fell asleep.)

COMING: Dulles's Report on the Bases.

Henderson Strikers Still Holding the Line

By a Worker Correspondent

HENDERSON, N. C. — The textile workers here are at the 2½ year mark of their strike against the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills. The TWUA maintains picket lines at the mill gates in spite of the injunctions of a company orientated judge. (Workers say he is married into the mill owners family).

The workers are suffering many hardships, but they are confident that if they can hold out they can win the strike. They base their hopes on the Company's difficulties in hiring first rate textile operators as scabs. Because of a big labor turnover, scabherders have been kept busy finding personnel to keep the mills going. The result has been a large number of rejected orders due to poor workmanship.

The number of guards around the mills give the impression of an armed camp. Mill workers have been forbidden to talk to strikers on pain of discharge. Truck drivers have told the strikers they have been threatened likewise. Union members believe that at least some of the drivers are members of the Teamsters Union and are hoping for some concrete help there.

The union maintains a commissary at the Union Halls, but the workers are hoping for a renewal of outside support from the AFL-CIO. When the strike first broke, many unions sent aid, but as the strike has dragged along, interest has badly fallen off. There is constant community pressure against union members, led by the City Administration. In one community formerly comprised of 420 textile families, 200 have been forced to leave town in search of other employment. Unemployment compensation payments ran out long ago.

The strikers are aware that they are not only striking in their own behalf, but in the interests of all Labor, particularly in the South. In their own State, the unions are under a constant drumfire from the anti-labor textile bosses who dominate North Carolina. In an effort to attract more industry into the State, the industrial and political leaders are committed to a policy of offering low-paid, non-union labor as a major inducement.

A number of Textile Union leaders, headed by Boyd Payton, international vice president, are faced with up to 10 years in prison as the result of a conspiracy frame-up that was part of the strike breaking. The case is now before the U.S. Supreme Court.

'WE, PEOPLE' URGES: BREAK WITH RED BLOC

Parley Ends, Blasting U. N., Foreign Aid

We, The People! — a national organization of political conservatives—proposed Sunday that the United States cancel all diplomatic relations with the soviet government and all its satellites.

"Their embassies in this nation serve as nests of spies and intrigue, and are being used as instruments of our nation's destruction," the organization said in a resolution adopted at the closing session of its national convention in the La Salle hotel.

Income Tax "Evil"

The organization, which reelected Billy James Hargis, a Tulsa evangelist, as its national president, said the income tax law is the "root of all government evil" and recommended its repeal.

"The spiritual morale of this nation has never been lower. Juvenile delinquency, crime, and alcoholism are at all-time highs," the resolution said "our nation should have a spiritual rebirth in order to save its soul and its favor with God."

The organization called for an end to foreign aid, except to friendly nations such as Korea and Nationalist China, adoption of the Mason-Bailey bill to establish protective tariffs, and removal of all government regulation and supervision of agriculture.

"Agree" with Nikita

"We concur with the recommendation of Nikita Khrushchev that the United Nations be removed from the United States, and we further recommend that the United States withdraw from the United Nations," the organization said.

We, The People! also voted against federal aid to education, and medical aid to the aged.

Where Russia Stands in Machine Tools

Far Behind U. S. and May Slide Farther, Expert Asserts

BY JOSEPH ATOR

Two previous columns by this writer, devoted to the National Machine Tool Builders association's quinquennial exposition that closed Friday at the Amphitheater in the stockyards, have sought to give some idea of the tremendous competitive advantages that American industry has derived from improved tool designs. But what about our rivals, the Russians, who boast that they will soon out-produce us with their five and seven year plans?

Ator

A visitor to the show, whose business it is to know such things, is of the opinion that the Russians are not only far behind us in their present machine tool designs, but are certain to fall farther behind if they continue their present practices.

This is despite the fact that the speaker voiced great respect for the talent and imagination of some of the designers in the machine tool institute that rules Russian design and production.

Attempts of Russians

"The Russians are trying to standardize all of their machine tools, first, to fit them more readily into production lines in any part of their empire and, second, to cut costs thru mass production of the machine tools themselves," he said. "For the same reasons, they have frozen designs to some extent to achieve lower costs thru quantity production."

This, of course, is the exact opposite of the course followed by the numerous, relatively small, American machine tool makers. Their genius is in the manufacture of specialized tools to perform specific tasks more efficiently. Their diversity of ownership, and resulting competition, produces a greater diversity of new ideas than can possibly come from a single central planning agency.

Impedes Plant Rise

That centralization of Russian planning has even impeded the construction of the plants in which the Russians intend to build their tools. Pravda quoted Anatoli I. Kostousov, chairman of the state committee for machine building, as reporting to the central committee of the Communist party, at a meeting on July 15 that 53 of 77 machine building plants were still unfinished after 5 to more than 10 years, and that as a result of these delays equipment for new industrial installations sometimes was obsolete before it was installed.

At the last machine tool show, held in Chicago in 1955, a few tool builders were just beginning to make machines with what the industry calls numerical controls. Punched tapes transmitted electronic impulses to servo-mechanisms which operated controls of machines that formerly had been operated manually by the machinist. Numerical controls this year had come of age, and had been supplemented by computers with memory drums that cause a machine to repeat the same complex operation over and over.

Progress Has High Price

This progress has a high price. In the average machine, the cost of the new controls is half or more of the total cost, which frequently exceeds a quarter of a million dollars. The machines are not accurate.

RED POWER THROUGH AGITATION

The Communist-led "student riots" which halted the House Un-American Activities Committee hearings in San Francisco last May 12-14, indicated the tremendous power of the Red Fifth Column within our nation. For 20 years I have advocated the outlawing of the Communist Party and its members, all of whom are dedicated to the destruction of our nation.

The fact that only a handful of skillful Red agents can control thousands of American people, with propaganda and agitation, and use them as instruments of power to crush an agency of the U. S. Government, ought to be evidence enough that the Fifth Column endangers our security. Upon reading of the power wielded by the Communist-led "student riots" in Korea, Japan, Turkey and other nations recently, too many Americans say to themselves, "Oh, but it can't happen here!" The facts of the San Francisco Communist-led "student riots" show emphatically that it can happen here.

Seeking Recruits

Here is what the Communist forces within the United States are doing toward controlling American students as one instrument for seizing total power in our nation — as stated officially by J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director: "In 1959, the Communist Party, U.S.A., launched a major campaign with youth as its target. On May 30-31, approximately 20 young Communists from New York City, Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, and Philadelphia attended a conference with national leaders of the Party at Party headquarters in New York City. The purpose of the meeting was to devise a program to attract young blood — teenagers, students, and working youth — to the ranks of the Party.

"After those May 1959 conferences, campuses throughout the Nation became prime targets for Communist infiltration and recruitment efforts. The Party began operating what amounted to a regular lecture bureau, with Party spokesmen seizing every opportunity to project their views on campuses across the country.

Propaganda Program

"To establish a closer link between the Party and its youth groups, two of the most promising and active young Communists, Mortimer Daniel Rubin and Danny Queen, were included on the Party's national committee. . . . A new Marxist youth organization, Advance, was organized in New York City. A drive is currently underway to establish a new Marxist youth publication, 'New Horizons.' "

It is well to pause here and contemplate the fact that just a few months ago a smiling Nikita Khrushchev, leader of world Communism, was being sumptuously entertained by leaders in our governmental and civic life here in the United States; thus Communism was made to appear respectable to impressionistic American youth. They can more easily recruit new members. Their objective is to use the recruits to gain control of masses of non-Communist students.

The Trap

Mr. Hoover's report continues: "The plans for the format of 'New Horizons' reveal the nature of the trap Communists are setting for campus students. Reporting on the proposed format to the Party's national executive committee recently, Rubin pointed out that 'New Horizons' will not be labeled a Marxist publication. The purpose of this is to avoid too close identification with the Communist Party. But it will, he said, give a 'Marxist analysis of the youth movement and a socialist, Marxist Leninist outlook.' He expressed the conviction that it would be extremely effective in closing the gap between what he termed democratic youth and the youth on the left.

"Further illustrating the tremendous drive the Party is making to infiltrate student groups is the agenda for a youth conference the Party held in Chicago, June 11-12, 1960. The major points on the agenda for the two-day conference were (1) 'mass developments on the campus' and (2) 'left-student developments.' Discussed in relation to these points were ways and means by which young Communists could exploit such controversial issues on campuses as civil rights, academic freedom, and other so-called peace issues."

What is being done in our nation to counteract these intensive Communist activities among our American youth? Not much. Next week: What you can do.

COMMUNISM—A Disease

Address given by Dr. Fred Schwarz of Sydney, Australia, before the combined Houses of the Texas Legislature

Reprinted from the House Journal, Fifty-Sixth Legislature, Regular Session Austin, Texas, March 25, 1959

Dr. Fred Schwarz was escorted to the Speaker's rostrum by a Committee of five Members of the House of Representatives.

Speaker Carr presented Honorable Robert Hughes of Dallas County who introduced Dr. Schwarz to the House with the following words—

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House and Distinguished Guests:

Today it is with great pleasure that I have an opportunity to present to you a distinguished gentleman, doctor and lecturer. This man is from Australia. He is a medical doctor who, some years ago, left his profession because he learned, first hand, of the dangers of the Communist Ideology. He has spent the time since then going all over the world to bring this danger to the attention of everyone who comes within the scope of his magnetic personality. He has addressed the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the National War College, Central Intelligence Agency, Congressional Committees, and many other organizations and groups who have come to recognize him as an authority on this subject, and I think that this House will do well to heed the message brought to us this morning by Dr. Fred Schwarz of Australia. I give you Dr. Schwarz.

(Dr. Schwarz then addressed the House as follows)

Mr. Speaker, Representatives and Guests of the State of Texas:

You can confer few greater honors upon a citizen of Australia than the one you have conferred upon me today; the privilege of speaking to the representatives of your vast, uniquely generous, and hospitable, sovereign State of Texas.

I am, by profession, a physician and a surgeon; concerned with the preservation of health and life. Communism has already killed many millions of people and proposes to kill many millions more. Therefore, by definition, it is a disease.

It is a three-fold disease. It is a disease of the body, because it kills; a disease of the mind, because it is associated with systematized delusions not susceptible to rational argument; and a disease of the spirit because it denies God, materializes man, robs him of spirit and soul, and in the last analysis, even of mind itself and reduces him to the level of a beast of the field.

The disease of Communism is making fast epidemic progress and we are confronted, not merely with the possibility, but with the probability that at present rates of expansion, within a generation it will have consumed the entire Earth.

The most essential feature in the treatment of any disease is accurate diagnosis. We have a saying in the medical profession: "It is better to have the right operation done poorly than the wrong operation done very well." If the trouble is in the appendix, you can gather the world's outstanding surgeon and he can admit you to the very finest hospital, gather together superb assistants in nursing and anesthesiology and together they can do a perfect operation to remove your gall bladder. That operation may be the very finest ever performed, but it does suffer from the minor disadvantage—it will not cure your original appendicitis.

It is quite obvious that our treatment of Communism is a colossal failure!

The enemy advances from strength to strength. The free world retreats. The area of freedom continually shrinks. Every move that we make is apparently unable to halt this advancing force! I would like to ask the question: Is it possible that our failure in this struggle has rested upon an inaccurate diagnosis? If we diagnose wrongly we are certain to treat ineffectively. What is Communism?

I am a salesman of a very simple idea. This idea I find very difficult to sell, and I have never been able to understand why. It is no hard to sell the idea that the football team desires to make touchdowns, that the library has books in it and not groceries; that the hen lays eggs and not grapefruit. But I find it tremendously difficult to sell the idea that the Communists are Communists; that they believe what they say they believe; that their organization is the organization they outline; that their objectives are the objectives they proudly proclaim. Once we take the simple step of acknowledging that the Communists are precisely what they say they are, the entire mystery vanishes, and their entire program derives a purposeful integrated unity that is not only comprehensible, but is almost mathematically predictable.

Nikita Khrushchev recently said "anyone who thinks we have forsaken Marxism-Leninism is crazy. That won't happen until shrimp learn to whistle!" What is Marxism-Leninism? It is vitally important that we should understand precisely what this alleged science is.

To put it very briefly, Marxism-Leninism teaches that there is no God; that men and women are animals devoid of soul, spirit, significant individual value and continuity of life, and that the human animal species has been divided by its economic environment into warring classes and that the basic dynamic of capitalist society is a state of war which Marx called the "class war." The basic doctrine of Marxism-Leninism is simply this: War is universal. This war is between the two classes—the proletariat and the bourgeoisie, as they were originally called. The proletariat allegedly represented the class of labor; the bourgeoisie represented the class of property ownership. Between these two there is a permanent, truceless state of warfare.

Now according to the Communist theory of Marxism-Leninism the class of property ownership controls the state government. You gentlemen and ladies represent, according to Communist theory, the mechanism by which the bourgeoisie enslaves and exploits the working class. On the other hand the proletariat generates its higher command, the Communist Party. This war manifests itself as war between the Communist Party and the government. Now according to Marxism-Leninism, the Communists did not declare this war; they did not even necessarily desire it. They simply recognized it and recognized their historic duty to consummate it in victory. Originally this war is within a state manifesting itself as war between the Communist Party and the Government. With the progress of history, Communism has come to power in the name of the proletariat, in Russia, in China, in Eastern Europe; the bourgeoisie remains in power in America and in associated countries. Therefore the class war has transferred itself from the national to the international plane. The fundamental doctrine of Marxism-Leninism is that Russia and America are at war; that China and America are at war. The war is universal, truceless. It embraces every facet of human life. The weapons of this war are multiple not merely the traditional weapon of guns and bombs and military science. Trade, language, cultural interchange, sports, arts, education and religion — everything is a weapon in this class warfare. War is universal!

Since the basic Communist doctrine is that Russia and America are at War, what do they mean when they talk about "peace"? There is no word in the Communist lexicon used more frequently than the word "peace." Wherever Communists are gathered you find the word "peace" displayed. They have "Peace" movements, "Peace" prizes, "Peace" festivals—the dove of Peace is their symbol.

Now since war is the present state of being what is "Peace"? Most of you think the Communists are hypocrites, that they do not genuinely desire peace. With that I cannot agree. If you took a Communist and gave him a lie detector test and asked him if he desired peace with all his heart, he'd pass it with flying colors. They live for peace; they long for peace; they yearn for peace. Peace is the golden day of their dreams; the fulfillment of the yearning of their hearts. But what is "Peace"?

During the war against Germany and Japan didn't you long for peace? When I ask normal American citizens if they desired peace, invariably the answer is that they yearned for peace with their whole heart. I ask "What was peace?" They say "Oh, the end of hostilities." I ask, "Do you include the end of hostilities in enemy victory?" They reply, "Oh, no we had to win it." Peace, by definition was the end of the war in American victory, not in defeat. The Communists believe that they are the historically ordained class that is to consummate this class war in world Communist victory. By definition peace is: Communist world conquest. Since peace is Communist conquest, every act that ministers to Communist conquest is peaceful. If they shoot you, they take a peaceful gun; they put a peaceful bullet in your warlike brain; they give you a peaceful death, and they bury you in a peaceful grave. When the armies of the Communist Chinese advanced with tanks and guns and bombs and bayonets, littering the field with dead, it is the advance of the forces of Peace. Peace is wonderful. When Khrushchev ordered the Russian tanks into Budapest to fire into the apartment buildings reducing them to rubble, entombing men, women and children, in his heart he was confident that he was consummating "glorious" peace.

The Communists can use the word "peace" with total sincerity in their own sense. We interpret it in our sense. And we are the pathetic victims of their deceit. The Communists are not hypocrites. If they were hypocrites our task would be infinitely simpler. A hypocrite can make a bargain; a hypocrite can be appeased. The Communists are so totally committed to their program of World Conquest, so totally committed to the concept of the universality of class war, that they have crossed the borderline of sanity and we are dealing with paranoid mentality beyond the reach of logic and reasonable appeal.

This class war is universal. From it every term derives its definition. Lenin proudly proclaimed that Communist morality is related to the class struggle—there is no such thing as good—there is no such thing as evil—there is no such thing as truth—there is no such thing as falsehood. Proletarian good is that which ministers to Communist World Victory. Any act that assists Communist Conquest is by definition "good." Any act that advances Communist World Triumph is by definition "peaceful." And any statement that advances World Communist Conquest is by definition "true."

The Communist never tell lies in the interest of Communism. If a statement is in the interest of Communist advance by definition it is the "truth."

Here is an example of the Communist truth—proletarian truth—with which they are deluging the world. This is a magazine put out in English by North Korea. The major part of it is given over to an alleged record of achievement by Communism in North Korea. As we near the end, we have a page entitled "Massacre Committed by American Brutes." On this page there are six photographs of bodies taken from a mass grave and the weeping relatives of the victims. Now the truth—what they call the bourgeois truth is this: When the Communists retreated in North Korea before the advance of General MacArthur, they took with them all able-bodied personnel. But those who belonged to the untrustworthy class and who could not stand the rigors of the northward journey, they simply massacred and put the bodies into mass graves. These included old men, pregnant women, mothers of very young children, etc. They have desinterred one of their own mass graves and are accusing the Americans of this crime. Listen to what they write:

"Mankind remembers the shocking atrocities the Hitlerites perpetrated in the concentration camps in Majdanek and Oswiencim.

"Recently another case of atrocities by the American murderers which exceeds in its cruelty the atrocities by the Hitlerites was discovered in Korea.

"In a shaft of the Rakyun Mine, Jangyun County, South Hwanghai Province, some 800 dead bodies were discovered.

"During their temporary occupation of Jangyun County during the Korean War, the American murderers rounded up miners of the Rakyun mine and the peasants in the nearby villages and put them through severe torture. Then the American devils kicked the tortured miners and peasants into the shaft 100 meters deep.

"In the shaft corpses were piled up on top of one another, and the torn pieces of the bodies bore bullet holes and scars made by the bayonets. Many mothers had their babies tied on their backs. The shaft presented a most gruesome scene.

"Honest-minded people can not but hate and condemn the American Imperialist murderers whose lust for blood knows no end.

"Funeral services for the murdered took place in the Rakyun mine in the midst of children's crying for their lost fathers, old women wailing over their dead sons. The people's enmity and curses upon the American devils rent the air. 'Avenge us of the American imperialists.' This was the cry of the 800 murdered.

"But even at the moment in South Korea, the American murderers are slaughtering our brothers and sisters. This we can not tolerate:

"American cannibals, get out of Korea immediately."

Tell a lie, make it big, repeat it often, and the majority of people will believe you. It was Hitler who said this. The Communists have translated that concept into a vast science of proletarian truth. The tragedy is this: 100 people in the uncommitted areas of the world will see and believe this evil lie, for every one that reads and hears the true story of the shooting down of the unarmed American Transport Plane over Soviet Armenia by the Communist fighter planes.

Be not deceived—evil communications corrupt good manners. When we realize the vast distribution of this literature in every country of the World, we get a little insight into why the American Vice-President and his wife were stoned and spat upon South of the Border, why the American Embassy personnel recently had to flee in Bolivia from raging mobs. The harvest of Communist lies is being reaped and frankly, the apparent program of the free world, which seems to be to provide electric light in these backward countries so that the Communist literature can be read, scarcely makes sense to me. The Communist programs go on ceaselessly. Everything is a weapon. Communist ideology crowns the ugliest and most evil of characters and acts with garments of virtue and beauty.

Never was this brought out so effectively as in Khrushchev's speech on Joseph Stalin. Khrushchev revealed much about Stalin in that speech, but he revealed a great deal also about Khrushchev. Most people missed its point entirely. They think that Khrushchev condemned Stalin. He did nothing of the sort! He depicted Stalin and finally commended him. Khrushchev said in effect, "Stalin was a murderer; he was not a reluctant murderer, but an enthusiastic murderer. He enjoyed murder. He got a thrill out of the torture of his own friends. When the Jewish doctors were arrested and accused of poisoning Zdanov, the Communist leader, Stalin called in the man responsible for examining them and indicated the type of torture to be given to each one. He gave three fundamental rules for getting the confessions: "Beat, beat, and beat again." He said, "If you don't get a confession by this date, we will shorten you by a head."

Khrushchev indicated Stalin was a stark, raving, madman. "When you went in to see him in the morning, he would look at you and say, 'What have you been up to? You've got a shifty look in your eye today.' You never knew whether you would leave as his friend or under armed guard to be shot." Then he finalizes as follows, "Don't misunderstand me. Stalin was a good man. He was a Marxist-Leninist. He did these things as a Marxist-Leninist." In the class morality of Maxim-Leninism Stalin's personal individual idiosyncracies were immaterial. Stalin is the man who set up the educational program in Russia which today is graduating three times as many engineers and scientists as America, and, when their China program matures, will graduate ten times as many. Stalin is the man who set up their submarine program that has brought the shadow of impending doom over the lives of every one of us from missiles launched from the Gulf of Mexico; Stalin set up their scientific program; Stalin organized the conquest of China; Stalin organized the infiltration of every institution of American life. Stalin deceived the American and free world statesmen; Stalin brought them to the very eve of World Conquest.

A few generations hence when Communism has triumphed and man is being remolded according to the Communist goal and universal happiness covers the earth the name of Stalin will be honored and revered.

The tragedy of Communism is not merely that it murders; it makes murder a moral and a righteous act. When they deny the foundation of civilization, our Christian heritage; when they deny God, and His creative and redemptive love; they destroy the very foundations on which our individual value is built. In its place, the cold scientific morality of mathematical statistics emerges.

When the Communists have conquered the world, they will be left with the residual capitalist classes whom it is their duty to destroy. This is their proletarian moral duty.

A few years back the American Communist party would openly acknowledge that having conquered this land, they would need to put to death one third of the American people. This is not an act of punishment; neither is it an act of revenge — it is the fulfillment of Marxism-Leninism. An act whereby the surgeon takes the scalpel to cut away the diseased social tissue that the new and Communistically perfect may come to glorious flower.

We are living in an era of great danger, of vast peril; an era when the very future of our children is desperately menaced.

Communism is the literal fulfillment of Psalm XIV. "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable works. There is none that doeth good." Emerging from this bottomless pit of Godless materialism, captivating by a glamorous vision of a regenerate mankind, utilizing the perverted religious fervor of youth, and every scientific method, this torrent is sweeping the Earth, and Freedom stands menaced and home and children stand in mortal peril, and the challenge to every one of us is this: "What contribution can I make that tyranny may not triumph and liberty may not perish from the Earth?"

I submit that to every individual motivated by love of Freedom, Christian philosophy, dedication to home and family, and love of country, every other issue has become secondary. The simple question is: How can we mobilize every spiritual, ideological, and moral force we have to halt this Communist advance across the earth?

The Communists say that victory is certain—certain for this reason: "We are the product of our economic society. Capitalism is in its dying stages. It has created us without survival value. We are so selfish; so shortsighted; so intoxicated with entertainment; so consumed with our own immediate, personal objectives we will never have the honesty and intelligence to understand the evidence, or the courage and dedication to do what is necessary to survive."

Is your life; is my life; an argument for or against the accuracy of that Communist thesis? As the great men and wonderful women of your fine country come face to face with these dangers, you have the unique responsibility to lay the foundation on which liberty shall triumph and tyranny shall fail.

I would like to finish with this poem:

Where the northern ocean darkens,
Where the rolling rivers run
Past the cold and empty headlands
Toward the slow and westering sun,
There our fathers long before us,
Armed with Freedom faced the deep
What they built with love and labor
Let their children watch and keep.

By our dark and dreaming forests,
By our clear and shining skies,
By our green and ripening prairies,
Where the Western mountains rise,
God who gave our fathers freedom,
God who made our fathers brave
What they built with love and anguish
Let their children watch and save.

Thank you very much for this great opportunity. God bless you all.
