

INTEGRATION
Establishment of HUMINT ADP Capabilities

A priority objective of the Office of HUMINT Tasking is the creation of an automated support capability for the National HUMINT Tasking System. To provide an integrated and comprehensive repository for human source tasking and reporting of both the Intelligence and the Foreign Affairs Community elements, discussions are underway with a variety of computer file managers. If possible, the goal is to achieve as expeditiously as it can be done, a registry which feeds on and weaves together existing computerized data bases and networks, as a complementary facility to the National Intelligence Tasking Center. In a related undertaking, the Information Handling Committee is sponsoring a study designed to provide a computer file, available to both collectors and producers in the Community, containing all the record documents [REDACTED] These two surveys should identify whether existing computer files can be bridged and tapped, or whether new systems requiring both hardware and software will be needed.
