Remarks:

The "Perspectives for Intelligence" paper was circulated within the CIA for comments. There appear to be no major problems with the paper (see attached comments). The majority of the respondents were pleased with the paper and with the fact that some or all of their previous comments had been incorporated into the most recent draft. The criticisms of the paper were minor in nature and were more concerned with changes in style rather than substance. A comment from DDS&T might be worth noting. They feel that "foreign" should follow the word tactical on page 2, paragraph 3b, line 1 of the paper.

Acting CIA Member, USIB
