It seems that the full meaning of Appendix P - Rank Conversion - is insufficiently clear. In designing it we omitted to show the brackets for the new ranks to which officers in the present rank structure could be converted according to experience, ability and level of responsibility they would have in the re-organised Police Command and staff structure.

We enclose an amended Appendix P which now indicates the overlaps and which will allow room for manoeuvre in conversion in the light of the criteria set out above when a firm establishment by rank and duty post is worked out.

The original Appendix P should be cancelled.

3 April, 1971.

Sir Robert Thompson.
