Dear General:

Barcelona Traction, Light & Power
Company, Limited.

It was very kind of you to see me on Friday last and afford me an opportunity of outlining to you some of the difficulties which Barcelona Traction, Light and Power Company is experiencing in Spain.

As promised, I am enclosing in duplicate a memorandum which I dictated recently, giving a brief history of the undertaking and indicating some of the problems with which it is faced.

I feel confident that it will be helpful to your friend when discussing the matter with General Franco during his proposed visit to Spain. I hope it will enable him to secure a better understanding between the company and the Spanish Government and, once this has been established, there should be no difficulty in reaching a settlement satisfactory and fair to all interests concerned, viz., the company, the bondholders, the shareholders, and the Spanish Government.

We discussed the power shortage in certain countries. In that connection, you will be interested to peruse the enclosed clipping from the November 2nd issue of the New York World Telegram.

I was very glad to see that your health has improved so much, and that you have effected such a complete recovery.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

D. N. Heineman

He notes that the above memo may be helpful to "your friend" when discussing the matter with General Franco. Shall I bring this to your attention when you next see General Willoughby?
