Dear David,

27 FEB 1978

We were delighted to have you with us as CIA Guest Speaker on 16 February and to share in your stimulating discussion of world banking trends with our employees and guests from other agencies of the Intelligence Community. The audience clearly enjoyed the opportunity to sound you out on the economic issues of the day, and I am sure that their reluctance to let you go demonstrated their appreciation for an enlightening afternoon.

Thank you so much for giving so generously of your time and for your warm responsiveness to our many questions.

Yours,

/s/ Stansfield Turner

Dear Professor Mesarovic:

I want to thank you and your colleagues for presenting "The Mesarovic--Pestel Global Model and Policy Analysis" for the Intelligence Community on 3 February 1978. I am sorry that a previously scheduled trip to the West Coast made it impossible for me to attend. However, I was delighted upon my return to find that your presentation was so well received and, in fact, was one of our most well-attended presentations. All of us value programs such as you presented and which we believe provide that external stimulation which is so necessary to the increased development and improvement of our analytical capabilities.

Please pass my appreciation for your splendid contribution along to Professor Hughes and Mr. Warshaw.

Yours sincerely,

/s/ Stansfield Turner

Professors Mesarovic and Hughes and Mr. Warshaw of Case Western Reserve University made a presentation for an Intelligence Community audience of about 455 in the auditorium on 3 February 1978. They discussed and demonstrated the use of the global simulation model which they have developed over the past several years to further the Club of Rome studies and dynamically illustrated ways in which the model might be used in intelligence policy analysis. They were reimbursed only for their expenses and accepted no honorarium.
