1. It is recommended that the limitation on petty cash purchases be increased for each purchase from $10.00 to either $15.00 or $20.00 and that total expenditure for any one month not exceed $75.00. This is suggested due to the fact that previous requests received from. offices for petty cash purchases amounted to approximately $15.00, more or less, and it is felt that the cost involved in cabling and forwarding telegrams can be saved by this slight increase in monetary

VOUCHER FOR AUTHORIZED PETTY PURCHASES

1 9 4 5 General Regulations No. 103 General Accounting Office Office of the Comptroller General of the United States Washington 25, D. C., May 2, 1945.

1. In order to provide a uniform and economical method of effecting payment for authorized petty purchases made by Federal officials and employees duly authorized to make such purchases for official purposes, and to reduce the number of separate vouchers now being prepared covering such purchases, the following procedure and standard forms are hereby prescribed for general use throughout the Government service:

Standard Form No. 1129 - Voucher For Petty Purchases
(Original, printed on white paper - size 8 by 11 inches)

Standard Form No. 1129a - Same as above (Memorandum copy, printed on yellow paper)

Standard Form No. 1129b - Voucher For Petty Purchases Continuation Sheet (Original, printed on white paper)

Standard Form No. 1129c - Same as above (Memorandum copy, printed on yellow paper)

- 2. The columnar headings of the forms have been so arranged as to permit their use when foreign currency is involved, and when so used the value of the purchases may be shown in United States dollars in the aggregate for all purchases made at the same conversion rate, thus making unnecessary the showing of the exchange rate for each purchase.
- 3. All petty expenditures by an employee authorized to incur such expenditures shall be listed on the reverse of the Standard Form No. 1129, and the continuation sheet if necessary. Each item listed should be supported by an original bill or invoice of the dealer, or by receipt on Standard Form No. 1012d-Revised, Receipt For Cash-Subvoucher, when cash purchases are for $1 or more (and lesser amounts if receipts are convenient to secure), or other form of payment evidence. Receipts shall be consecutively numbered as subvouchers and securely attached at the specified place in the upper left corner of the voucher form. When the required receipted bills or invoices (subvouchers) are not attached, a statement of the circumstances which rendered their procurement impracticable should be made on the voucher.

- 4. The original of the voucher, supported by receipts where applicable, shall be certified by the said employee to whom payment is to be made and by the authorized certifying officer. If proper, such vouchers will be transmitted to the disbursing officer and included in his accounts.
- 5. All departments and establishments for which special forms were prescribed by this office for use in connection with petty purchases shall continue to use such forms until the present supply is exhausted, provided, that after receipt of these regulations the following administrative certificate of approval shall be written, typed, or otherwise placed on the face of each voucher submitted for payment:

"Pursuant to authority vested in me, I certify that the account is correct and proper for payment."

- 6. In the interest of economy, the continuation sheets of the special forms now in stock for use in connection with petty purchases should be used in conjunction with the new standard voucher form until the supply of such old forms also is exhausted.
- 7. Upon receipt of these regulations each department and establishment is requested to make requisition at once upon the Public Printer for a supply of standard forms herein approved which it is estimated will be required for its service. In so doing, it is understood and agreed by said departments and establishments that they thereby consent to the plan of combining all the requisitions submitted and printing the total thereof in one edition to be delivered to the respective departments and establishments, or placed in stock at the Government Printing Office, subject to their order, or partly delivered and partly placed in stock, as the case may be, and that they authorize the Public Printer to prorate the cost of printing and to render bill against each department and establishment for its proportionate share on the basis of the number of forms ordered by it.

PERFORMANCE AND DEFAULT

Relating to Contracts Included in the Federal Supply Schedule (formerly General Schedule of Supplies)

Relating to Contracts Included in the Federal Supp

The following instructions and suggestions are intended to insure uniformity in the enforcement of the performance provisions of Federal Supply Schedule contracts, and supersede instructions contained in Treasury Department circulars No. 46, March 13, 1917, and No. 3, March 29, 1930, revoked May 5, 1945, by the attached circulars:

1. RESPONSIBILITIES. While the Bureau of Federal Supply awards and exercises general supervision over the contracts, it is the responsibility of the departments and establishments whose requirements are included in the contracts to place orders with contractors, make payments and, in the first instance, determine whether performance meets the contract terms. Subject to the provisions of the contracts and the conditions hereinafter stated, ordering offices are accordingly free to deal directly with contractors concerning compliance of performance with the contractor secondary compliance of performance with the contractor secondary purchase from other sources and charge the contractor with any resulting excess costs.

2. DEFECTIVE SUPPLIES. Ordering offices may reject defective supplies and seek replacements, or, in the event of public necessity, may use the supplies and pay therefor at a proper reduction in price, or may terminate the right of the contractor to proceed further under the purchase order and place the contractor in default, purchasing the supplies elsewhere against his account.

3. DELAYS. Where the contractor fails to perform within the time required, ordering offices may grant an extension of time or terminate the right of the contractor in default, and purchase elsewhere against his account. Should the contractor file a notice that the delay in performance was due to an excusable cause preventing assessment of excess costs under the provisions of the contract, it should be promptly forwarded for consideration to the Purchase Branch, Bureau of Federal Supply, the Secretary of the Treasury, on appeal, or their authoriz that such a notice has been filed, it may decide to postpone the assessment of excess costs until a ruling is made in order to avoid unnecessary accounting actions.

4. DISPUTES. All disputes concerning questions of fact arising under the contract which cannot satisfactorily be settled between the ordering office and the contractor shall be determined by the contracting officer of the Branch of Federal Supply, the Secretary of the Treasury, on appeal, or their authorized representatives.

mined by the contracting officer of the Branch of rederal Supply, the Secretary of the Treasury, on appeal, or their authorized representatives.

5. DEFAULT—ORDERING OFFICE. Before placing a contractor in default, it is suggested that ordering offices notify the contractor in writing, in the purchase order or otherwise, that unless satisfactory performance occurs by a specified date, which should allow a reasonable time for performance, his right to proceed further under the purchase order will be considered terminated and he will be held liable for any excess costs resulting from purchasing the supplies or services elsewhere. Where excess costs are anticipated, the ordering office may likewise decide to withhold sufficient funds due the contractor as offset security. Ordering offices shall endeavor to minimize excess costs to be charged against the contractor and to collect, by check or setoff, excess costs owed. Such collected funds are usually for deposit into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

6. DEFAULT—PROCUREMENT DIVISION. Where ordering offices are notified by the Bureau of Federal Supply that it has placed the contractor in default, ordering offices shall thereafter refuse to accept further performance by the contractor or place further purchase orders with him. Ordering offices shall thereafter purchase against the account of the contractor from replacing contractors designated by the Bureau of Federal Supply.

7. REPORTS. Ordering offices shall report to the Purchase Branch, Bureau of Federal Supply.

8. Bureau of Federal Supply, Washington 25, D. C., the details concerning all material instances of unsatisfactory performance by contractors, whether or not properly adjusted and settled. Ordering offices shall also report, as may be directed by the Bureau of Federal Supply.

PLACING ORDERS WITH CONTRACTORS UNDER THE FEDERAL SUPPLY SCHEDULE (FORMERLY GENERAL SCHEDULE OF SUPPLIES)

When a required commodity is listed in the Federal Supply Schedule, the purchase order should be sent direct to the contractor. The article description, the name and address of the contractor, the contract number, and the special contract terms are shown in the Schedule. If a standard purchase order form has been adopted by your agency (see Procurement Division Circular Letter 722), that form should be used.

Before issuing a criter to a Federal Supply Schedule contract.

Before issuing an order to a Federal Supply Schedule contractor, it is well to review the applicability of the Schedule to your agency. This information appears on the first inside page of agency. This each Schedule.

In transcribing the commodity description to the purchase order, it is not usually necessary to repeat every word as it appears in the Schedule. In most cases it is sufficient to show the item number, a brief description to enable the contractor to identify the commodity, and the prices and discount terms.

PARTICIPATING IN BUREAU OF FEDERAL SUPPLY CONSOLIDATED PURCHASING PROGRAMS

The Bureau of Federal Supply is authorized by law (41 Stat. 1341) to obtain estimates of the requirements of other agencies of the Government for commonly used supplies, and to purchase such requirements on a consolidated basis. These activities are known as "consolidated purchasing programs." Details of these consolidated purchasing programs, and the manner of participation therein by the agencies, are stated from time to time in circular letters issued by the Bureau of Federal Supply. These circular letters, and the classes of commodities affected by each, are listed below. These commodities are also included in this index under the source-of-supply symbol "R."

INFORMATION AND GUIDE TO THE USE OF THE CATALOG FOR ORDERING ITEMS FROM BUREAU OF FEDERAL SUPPLY STOCK

Su

1. Supply Centers of the Bureau of Federal Supply are located at New York, Washington, D. C., Cleveland, Chicago, Atlanta, Fort Worth, Kansas City, Denver, San Francisco, and Scattle. Branch Supply Centers are located in Boston and Los Angeles. The service area map in the Stock Catalog shows each area which generally can be served by freight more quickly or more economically from the Supply Centers located within the area than from any of the other Bureau of Federal Supply Centers. The areas delineated also apply in general to parcel post shipments, although the parcel post zoning system makes it possible to deliver material to a consignee from more than one Supply Center for the same delivery charge.

2. An agency may choose the Supply Center to which it will submit its requisitions and need not follow the service area map, which is presented principally as assistance to requisitioning agencies. Requisitions will be filled by the Supply Center receiving them, regardless of the location of the consignee.

3. Each Supply Center stocks and issues supplies in common

3. Each Supply Center stocks and issues supplies in common or frequent use by Federal agencies located within its service area. Because of varying demands of the Federal agencies in the different service areas, all items are not carried in all Supply Centers. Centers.

4. A national catalog listing all the items carried in stock in all Supply Centers has been issued. The catalog also shows each stock number, description, and approximate price. Changes and/or corrections to the catalog will be covered by catalog supplements. Prices quoted in a price list are f. o. b. the Supply Center and are given for encumbrance purposes only as they are subject to change without notice. Each Supply Center periodically issues price lists applicable to its own stock.

5. As stated in Procurement Division 2 circular letter B-28 of November 28, 1945, Supply Centers of the Bureau of Federal Supply distribute the available Federal surplus of items listed in their stock catalog and supplements pursuant to the provisions of War Assets Administration Regulation No. 2 (see pp. 12-16). Compliance by an agency with the Surplus Property Act of 1944 is automatically accomplished through the submission of requisitions for these items to the nearest Supply Center. Unless the agency requisition bears instructions to the contrary, it will be filled, first, from new or unused surplus if available; second, from used surplus if available; and third, from regular stock.

For convenience, instructions covering the preparation and submission of requisitions or orders for stock are given below.

aission of requisitions or orders for stock are given below.

(1) Pending an agency's adoption of an approved standard purchase order form as provided for in Procurement Division a circular letter No. 722 dated May 29, 1943 (see pp. 17–18), agencies ordering stock may continue to use whatever supply there is on hand of Procurement Division requisition Form No. 7, Revised (Requisition for Procurement Division Stock), or their own requisition forms. Additional copies of Procurement Division requisition forms. Additional copies of Procurement Division requisition form No. 7, Revised, are no longer available from the Bureau of Federal Supply.

(2) Requisitions or orders are to be submitted in duplicate, one copy of which will be used by the Supply Center as a packing slip and sent with the shipment to the consignee.

² Effective January 1, 1947, all references to the "Procurement Division" shall be deemed to refer to the "Bureau of Federal Supply".

(3) Each requisition or order must include the following essential information:

(aa) The complete title and General Accounting Office symbol numbers of appropriations to be charged. (This should not be confused with agency symbol, cost accounting, or budget objective classification numbers, etc.).

(Insert post office address) (Insert post office address)

(4) Do not forward Government bills of lading with requisitions as the Bureau of Federal Supply will issue its own bills of lading chargeable to the appropriation shown on the requisition on the assumption that all costs are payable therefrom. Where transportation costs are chargeable to separate appropriations, the requisition must so indicate.

(5) Prepare a separate requisition for each destination to which you wish the Bureau of Federal Supply to ship supplies.

(6) In the preparation of requisitions for stock items, always use the exact stock numbers and then use sufficient portions of the article descriptions to adequately identify the items. This will avoid errors due to discrepancies and ambiguities.

(7) List items in numerical and alphabetical order, with double spacing between items.

double spacing between items.

(8) Give special attention to the listing on the requisition of the "units" and the "number of units" wanted. The number of units ordered multiplied by the unit of issue should equal the quantity of merchandise actually desired, for example. Number of units Units

In filling requisitions, slight changes in quantities ordered may be made by the Supply Center to permit deliveries in original containers unless the requisition specifically restricts the quantities to be furnished.

The field fiscal office designated as to be billed by the 991 series of vouchers must be the one which certifies and actually processes them for payment. Articles ordered from a Supply Center but not available at the time the requisition is filled will be back-ordered or canceled, and information to that effect will be promptly furnished the ordering agency either by notice on the packing slip which accompanies items shipped or by other mailed notice. Every effort is made by the Supply Center to maintain adequate stocks of all items, but if back-ordering is necessary, the articles will be furnished at the earliest possible date.
9. To aid the requisitioning office in checking material received from a Supply Center, a packing slip will accompany each shipment and the carton, box, or package containing the packing slip will be identified by appropriate marking.

CIRCULAR LETTER B-18 (REVISED)

To: Heads of Departments and Establishments. From: Clifton E. Mack, Director of Procurement.³ Subject: Reimbursements to the General Supply Fund—Field Offices

Olinces.

Authorization has been continued during the fiscal year 1947 for more expeditious payment by certain field offices for supplies and services furnished by the Procurement Division.³ The Treasury Department Appropriation Act, 1947 (Pub. Law 518, July 20, 1946) provides in this respect as follows:

That payments covering transactions between the Procurement Division and field offices of other Government agencies whose detailed appropriation or fund accounts are maintained elsewhere than within the District of Columbia, maintained elsewhere than within the District of Columbia, may be made on the basis of itemized vouchers or invoices prepared by the Procurement Division and sent through the appropriate field offices to the disbursing officers for the agencies involved, who are hereby authorized to make payment based (1) upon certification of the Procurement Division, which shall include the specific statement that the vouchers are issued pursuant to and in conformity with purchase orders or requisitions duly executed by the agency billed, and (2) upon approval and certification of such vouchers by the agency billed, which action shall be based upon acceptance of the Procurement Division certification as made, subject to later adjustment if necessary, the responsibility of the certifying officer to be limited to the availability of the funds to be charged. * * *

For accounting use in accomplishing the purposes of the authorization, the Comptroller General has prescribed the following Treasury Department, Procurement Division forms:

-Voucher for Supplies and Services (original dis-

Form 991—Voucher for Supplies and Services (original and bursement voucher, white).

Form 991a—Voucher for Supplies and Services (memorandum disbursement voucher, yellow).

Form 991b—Voucher for Supplies and Services (memorandum collections voucher, blue).

Form 991c—Voucher for Supplies and Services (memorandum collections voucher, preen).

Forms in the 991 series are similar in most respects to the Standard Form 1080—Revised series of vouchers. However, the 991 series makes provision for a "Differences" statement, which appears to the right of the "Certificate of Billing Office" space. Any agency billed on Form 991 is authorized to make reductions for "Differences" for the following reasons only:

To correct errors in computation on invoices or vouchers;
 To eliminate an invoice which should be sent to a different office for payment;
 To eliminate an invoice because of insufficient funds in its current allotment.

Invoices eliminated from a voucher for either of the last two Invoices eliminated from a voucher for either of the last two reasons shall be returned by the agency billed, with an explanation, to the Procurement Division office originating the voucher. Invoices returned for reason 3 will be resubmitted to the agency for payment out of subsequent allotments.

The forms of the 991 series are to be executed in a manner similar in most part to that outlined in General Accounting Office General Regulations No. 98 of October 7, 1943 (23 Comp. Gen. 908), which pertain to the Standard Form 1080—Revised series of vouchers. However, after verification of the mathematical accuracy of the voucher, the "Certificate of Office Billed" is to be completed on the basis of the certification of the Procurement Division, even before the supplies or services furnished have been reported as received and accepted. This will expedite reimbursement to the General Supply Fund of the Procurement Division and will aid in maintaining an available balance in the fund at all times to meet current obligations, thereby making it possible to continue such direct billings in lieu of payment by transfer and counter warrant. In any case where prompt reimbursements are not accomplished by direct billing, it may be necessary to utilize the transfer and counter warrant method in lieu of the Form 901 method.

The use of these forms is primarily for the convenience of the the transfer and counter warrant method in lieu of the Form 991 method.

The use of these forms is primarily for the convenience of the paying offices and permits Government agencies which have field offices whose detailed appropriation or fund accounts for these offices are maintained elsewhere than within the District of Columbia to make direct payment through a regional disbursing office for supplies and services furnished to agency field offices by the Procurement Division, thereby eliminating the necessity of having funds available in Washington for payment by transfer and counter warrant. As a result, the accounting for funds under the control of field offices is simplified. The use of the 991 series of vouchers is not mandatory, however, in cases where agencies' accounts have been decentralized.

To effectuate this simplification and to prevent confusion in both the requisitioning agency and in the Procurement Division relative to the type of billing to be used and the identity of the field fiscal office to be billed by Form 991, requisitioning offices must show one of the following instructions, whichever is appromise to the payment of the field fiscal office to be billed by Form 991, requisitioning offices must show one of the following instructions, whichever is appropriate, on the face of each requisition or purchase order submitted to the Procurement Division:

Bill by 991 voucher to (name and address of field fiscal office)

Bill by transfer and counter warrant.

Bill by transfer and counter warrant.

Rogardless of the type of billing desired, the symbol and title of the appropriation chargeable must be shown on each requisition and purchase order.

In order to avoid delay in payment by vouchers in the 901 series and the necessity for reversion by the Procurement Division to the use of transfer and counter warrants, the fiscal office to be billed shall be the office certifying the vouchers and actually processing the vouchers for payment. In instances where no fiscal office is specified or if the fiscal office is in the District of Columbia, the Procurement Division will bill the agency by transfer and counter warrant.

Determination may be made subsequent to payment by Form 991 that an agency is entitled to a refund from the Procurement Division, as where material is returned to the Procurement Division after payment therefor has been effected. In such case the Procurement Division after payment therefor has been effected. In such case the Procurement Division will deduct the amount due from a subsequent Form 991 billing the same appropriation and limitation. In the absence of any subsequent billing against which the amount due may be offset, the agency billed may submit to the Procurement Division a Form 1980—Revised to accomplish the necessary refund. In no case will the office billed attempt to make an adjustment for a refund due by using the "Differences" section of Form 991.

Since administrative procedures of certain agencies require the use of more than one copy of Form 991a, the memorandum disbursement voucher, it will be the policy of the Procurement Division to furnish a maximum of two extra copies of the form at each billing, regardless of the number of copies the agency may require for administrative purposes. The extra copies of Form 991 as is requested and partial delivery thereon is made (the items not delivered being back-ordered for subsequent delivery), the Procurement Division will not defer billing until the back-ordered items have been shipped but

INFORMATION AND SUGGESTIONS RELATING TO INSPECTING AND TESTING

1. The procurement of the items of supplies contained in the index of established Government sources of supply is based on purchase specifications such as Federal specifications, departmental specifications, or other standards recognized by the trade.

2. Failure to inspect or test deliveries, either at destination or at the factory, renders purchase specifications partially ineffective in protecting the Government, providing fair and adequate competition, and giving equitable treatment to all bidders.

3. Therefore, before initiating any procurement action, provision should be made for adequate inspection and, if necessary, testing.

- vision should be made for adequate inspection and, if necessary, testing.

 4. All commodities shall be inspected for quality, quantity, and condition before they are permitted to enter the Federal supply system. This applies to commodities manufactured by Government activities as well as commercial producers. Commodities already in the Federal supply system and subject to transfer from one Government activity to another shall be inspected for quantity and condition by the receiving activity. The latter category includes supplies listed in the following publications:

 - (a) Government Printing Office

 Both catalogs listed in Index

 (b) Bureau of Federal Supply—Treasury Department Stock Catalog
- 5. In procuring supplies from any of the other publications listed in the index, adequate provision for inspection and testing should be made at the time of initiating the procurement.

 6. Adequate provision for inspection and testing includes the following the procure of the following:

- (a) Identification of specification applicable to contract(b) Determination of extent to which inspection or testing is necessary
 (c) Decision as to who will conduct inspection or testing,
- (d) Preparation, when necessary, of requests for inspection tests by other Government activity and arrangement for transfer of funds in payment thereof.
- for transfer of funds in payment thereof.

 7. The specification which is made a part of the contract is easily identified. It is either included in the general description of the item or will be found in a general information section at the beginning or end of the publication.

 8. The determination of the extent of inspection or testing is a matter of judgment. The greater the dollar value of the purchase, the greater the justification for larger inspection and testing costs. However, inspection and testing costs may be permitted to run high when compared to material costs in cases where the failure of purchased material may result in excessive loss of time or excessive replacement costs. On the other hand, shortages, exigency, low cost, or other expediency may dictate restricting inspection and testing to quantity and condition. Such limitation of inspection and testing should be well justified, and a definite exception to the general practice.

 9. Purchasers are cautioned to include a statement in the purchase order to the effect that material requisitioned therein is subject to inspection. The place of inspection is not designated, it will be understood that inspection will take place at the specified point of delivery. If inspection is to take place at the factory, the purchasing activity shall include in its purchase order a statement of the minimum notice it requires in advance of the date of factory inspection. If the inspector is sent to the factory, he may be required to perform any of the following:

 (a) Select samples and send to Government activity for inspection and senting and the string and the string and the senting and the string and the senting and the string and the senting and
- - (a) Select samples and send to Government activity for inspection and testing
 (b) Inspect samples at the factory and send to Government laboratory for testing
 (c) Inspect and conduct tests with facilities of the factory.
- Federal and departmental specifications provide instructions for the above. Other standards, especially reference to a recognized trade name, do not. In such cases decisions must be made in the light of paragraph 8 above, and the availability of inspection services and testing laboratory services. Assistance in deciding the services of the services in deciding the extent of inspection and testing should be obtained from both the inspection staff and the laboratory staff within the activity itself. If such personnel is not available within the activity, the information may be obtainable from such personnel of other Government activities within the such personnel of other Government activities within the locality.

10. In the event that information is required relative to types of inspection or laboratory services available, it is suggested that the other Government activities be solicited by telephone for such data. Usually contact should be made either with the chief inspection officer or the chief laboratory technician, or both, depending on the type of assistance required. It is essential that all questions of payment for services to be rendered be settled by the departments and establishments involved.

11. During 1944 the Bureau of Federal Supply, Treasury Department, distributed to either the inspection or purchasing activities of most Government agencies a publication entitled "Directory of Inspection Services and Testing Laboratories of the Federal Government." This publication will assist in the location of governmental inspection and testing facilities. When specific information is required, requests for such information should be forwarded to the Bureau of Federal Supply, Treasury Department, Chief of Research and Technical Services Division, Standards Branch, Washington 25, D. C., stating the commodities involved and the type of service (see par. 8) required.

12. The Bureau of Federal Supply will, within the limits of its inspection force and within the vicinity of Washington, D. C., assist an agency if the latter's inspection of material presents difficulties in determining whether the material is in accordance with the applicable specifications and/or samples. The method of disposition of material found to be substandard will be left entirely to the ordering office. However, should such office experience difficulty in obtaining proper adjustment or replacement from a contractor with whom a contract has been made by the Bureau of Federal Supply, the case will be handled by the Bureau of Federal Supply upon request. Copies of all correspondence between ordering office and contractor relating to these cases should accompany the request.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 722

To: The heads of all departments and establishments. Subject: Standardization of purchase order forms.

To: The heads of all departments and establishments. Subject: Standardization of purchase order forms.

The regulations hereinafter set forth are issued for the purpose of standardizing purchase order forms used by all departments and establishments in the executive branch of the Government for or in connection with contracts for supplies.

Purchase order forms standardized in accordance with such regulations will also be used as purchase authorities (in lieu of Procurement Division Form No. 1), requisitions for Procurement Division stock (in lieu of Procurement Division Form No. 7), and request for the transfer of surplus property. When so used they will be addressed to the appropriate office of the Procurement Division as "seller," even though technically the Procurement Division is not a seller as regards transfers, issues, or purchases which it makes to or on behalf of other Government agencies. Any such purchase order so issued to the Procurement Division will be treated as an authorization to issue or purchase the supplies requisitioned in such manner as the Procurement Division deems most appropriate, and as an authorization to the Procurement Division to obligate the cited appropriation of the agency concerned for any purchase made on its behalf, as well as itself obligating such appropriation in cases where issues are made from Procurement Division, however, will not issue used surplus property in response to a purchase order which indicates any method of purchase other than "surplus property transfer," unless the consent of the requisitioning agency is first obtained.

Until a department or establishment has adopted a purchase order form under the regulations hereinafter set forth, it shall order form under the regulations hereinafter set forth, it shall

¹ When so used, the certification as to (a) present stock on hand and (b) authority to extend preference ratings, now on the reverse side of Procurement Division Form No. 7, may be back printed, rubber stamped, or attached where required.

1 Effective January 1, 1947, all references to the "Procurement Division" and to the "Director of Procurement" shall be deemed to refer to the "Bureau of Federal Supply" and to the "Director, Bureau of Federal Supply," respectively.

not issue purchase orders to the Procurement Division pursuant to the foregoing paragraph but shall continue the use of Procurement Division Forms Nos. 1 and 7. When a standardized purchase order form has been adopted, use of Forms Nos. 1 and 7 for any point of issue for which such purchase order form is to be used shall be discontinued.

It will be noted that the regulations hereinafter set forth are subject to various exceptions, among which is the general one "Except as otherwise authorized by law," at the beginning of section 11.100. One important purpose of that exception is to exclude from the scope of the regulations purchase order forms used for or in connection with contracts entered into under the authority of section 201 of the First War Powers Act, 1941. To the extent that agencies may practicably use standardized purchase order forms for or in connection with contracts entered into under the authority of that act; however, they are urged to do so in the interest of uniformity.

A further feature of the regulations that requires explanation is the block in the upper left-hand corner of the form for indication of the "Method of purchase." The method of purchase need not be indicated on the originals of orders issued to commercial sources, but must be indicated on the originals of all orders addressed to the Procurement Division under Procurement Division circular letter No. 472. Use of the "Methods of purchase" block as a report form for that purpose has been approved by the Director of the Bureau of the Budgot, as the form indicates. The enumerated methods of purchase and the scope of each are as follows:

1. General Schedule of Supplies. —Under this method include only purchases made against Treceurs December 1.

1. General Schodule of Supplies. —Under this method include only purchases made against Treasury Procurement General Schedule of Supplies contracts. Do not include purchases under the Schedule of Blind-Made Products.

2. Treasury Procurement stock.—Include requisitions for its transfer of surplus property.

2. Treasury Procurement stock.—Include requisitions for issue of Treasury Procurement stocks but not applications for transfer of surplus property.

3. Surplus property transfer.—Include requests for transfer of surplus property from Treasury Procurement or any other agency.

4. Advertising (R. S. sec. 3709).—Include purchases from commercial sources where made after advertising pursuant to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes or any similar law.

5. War powers negotiation.—Include purchases from commercial sources without advertising for bids, where made pursuant to authority of the First War Powers Act, 1941, or similar grant of authority. Do not include purchases covered by method 6.

6. Other exemption from R. S. sec. 3709.—Include purchases from commercial sources without advertising for bids, where made under usual type of exemption from the advertising requirement of section 3709 of the Revised Statutes (small purchases, exigency purchases, etc.).

7. Miscellaneous.—Include all purchase orders issued to the Procurement Division not covered by method 2 or method 3; purchases made from Federal Prison Industries, Inc.; purchases under the Schedule of Blind-Made Products; purchases against contracts made by another agency, such as Navy Department's Industriang oil contracts and Post Office Department's Envelope Schedule, and any other purchases not covered by methods 1 to 6.

The regulations follow:

SUBJECT: Vouchered Petty Cash Procedure - Effective 1 January 1949

There are attached Regulations 103, issued by the General Accounting Office on 2 May 1945, relating to official petty purchases, a supply of Standard Forms Nos. 1129, 1129a, 1129b, 1129o, prescribed for use in connection with the regulation, and the Federal Supply Schedule Index. General Regulations No. 103 appears to be sufficiently clear so that it need not be supplemented by additional detailed information with respect to the contents thereof; however, from an Agency policy viewpoint, it is necessary that the following procedure be adopted:

1. Authorization

Expenditure by direct purchase shall be made under the regulation only in case of an emergency or when it is not feasible to effect procurement through normal channels. No advance of petty cash funds will be made to offices, such purchases must be financed from personal funds.

STATINTL

2. Designation

The Chief, or Acting Chief of each office shall designate, in writing, one employee of his office to make petty purchases, should the need arise. Where the Contact office is giving administrative support to the local EIB office, only the Contact effice is authorized to make designations and submit vouchers. Adjustment of funds will be made by the Budget and Finance Branch, where necessary. Only one employee may be authorized to carry out this function; however, a change in designation may be made when the Chief, or Acting Chief of the office deems it necessary. The designation shall be prepared in triplicate; a signed copy should be attached to the first original voucher and memorandum copy thereof submitted under such designation, the remaining copy to be retained in your files.

4. Regulations & Restrictions

A maximum amount of $10.00 per transaction shall not be exceeded, and the total monthly expenditure shall not exceed $50.00. Should an emergency arise where an expenditure in excess of $10.00 becomes necessary, and other approved local channels cannot be used, a teletype or telegram requesting instructions should be directed through the headquarter's office of the Branch you represent, to the Supply Division of the Services Branch.

The Federal Supply Schedule Index is being furnished in order that you may be aware of the restrictions that exist in connection with Federal procurement, and, in this connection, particular attention is invited to the following:

VOUCHER FOR AUTHORIZED PETTY PURCHASES

1 9 4 5 General Regulations No. 103 General Accounting Office Office of the Comptroller General of the United States Washington 25, D. C., May 2, 1945.

1. In order to provide a uniform and economical method of effecting payment for authorized petty purchases made by Federal officials and employees duly authorized to make such purchases for official purposes, and to reduce the number of separate vouchers now being prepared covering such purchases, the following procedure and standard forms are hereby prescribed for general use throughout the Government service:

Standard Form No. 1129 - Voucher For Petty Purchases
(Original, printed on white paper - size 8½ by 11
inches)

Standard Form No. 1129a - Same as above (Memorandum copy, printed on yellow paper)

Standard Form No. 1129b - Voucher For Petty Purchases Continuation Sheet
(Original, printed on

- 2. The columnar headings of the forms have been so arranged as to permit their use when foreign currency is involved, and when so used the value of the purchases may be shown in United States dollars in the aggregate for all purchases made at the same conversion rate, thus making unnecessary the showing of the exchange rate for each purchase.
- 3. All petty expenditures by an employee authorized to incur such expenditures shall be listed on the reverse of the Standard Form No. 1129, and the continuation sheet if necessary. Each item listed should be supported by an original bill or invoice of the dealer, or by receipt on Standard Form No. 1012d-Revised, Receipt For Cash-Subvoucher, when cash purchases are for $1 or more (and lesser amounts if receipts are convenient to secure), or other form of payment evidence. Receipts shall be consecutively numbered as subvouchers and securely attached at the specified place in the upper left corner of the voucher form. When the required receipted bills or invoices (subvouchers) are not attached, a statement of the circumstances which rendered their procurement impracticable should be made on the voucher.

- 4. The original of the voucher, supported by receipts where applicable, shall be certified by the said employee to whom payment is to be made and by the authorized certifying officer. If proper, such vouchers will be transmitted to the disbursing officer and included in his accounts.
- 5. All departments and establishments for which special forms were prescribed by this office for use in connection with petty purchases shall continue to use such forms until the present supply is exhausted, provided, that after receipt of these regulations the following administrative certificate of approval shall be written, typed, or otherwise placed on the face of each voucher submitted for payment:

"Pursuant to authority vested in me, I certify that the account is correct and proper for payment."

- 6. In the interest of economy, the continuation sheets of the special forms now in stock for use in connection with petty purchases should be used in conjunction with the new standard voucher form until the supply of such old forms also is exhausted.
- 7. Upon receipt of these regulations each department and establishment is requested to make requisition at once upon the Public Printer for a supply of standard forms herein approved which it is estimated will be required for its service. In so doing, it is understood and agreed by said departments and establishments that they thereby consent to the plan of combining all the requisitions submitted and printing the total thereof in one edition to be delivered to the respective departments and establishments, or placed in stock at the Government Printing Office, subject to their order, or partly delivered and partly placed in stock, as the case may be, and that they authorize the Public Printer to prorate the cost of printing and to render bill against each department and establishment for its proportionate share on the basis of the number of forms ordered by it.
