MEMORANDUM FOR : Mr. John Farangosky
SUBJECT : Communications Under Arctic Conditions in Project OXCART

1. In going over some of my old notes on past suppliers' meetings, I ran across a question which I literally asked myself: "Who is to provide the Arctic communications expert required to advise us on communications problems in connection with in-flight refueling on the A-12?" You will recall that there was some discussion about the feasibility of using UFG Homer equipment for Arctic rendezvous.

2. My rather hazy impression is that Leo Geary was to arrange for this requirement with AACS, but as to timing, I am completely uncertain. Can you shed any light on this?
