OLC 78-1190/a

Honorable William Proxmire
Committee on Appropriations
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Proxmire:

STAT Thank you for your letter of March 28 concerning [redacted] briefing of your staff on Iran's future after the Shah's death. I believe I can clarify the matter of your comment about our limited attention to this problem area.

STAT Let me assure you that analysts like [redacted] devote a great deal of time and attention to the internal affairs of Iran. [redacted], for example, has worked on this area for twenty-five years. Our review of this area is continuous and detailed.

STAT From time to time, as circumstances warrant, we prepare an assessment of the situation. That is what [redacted] is currently preparing and will be pleased to make it available to you when it is fully coordinated and completed.

Your concern about contingency planning is a policy matter and I suggest you might want to take it up with the State Department.

I appreciate your interest in this vital area of the world.

Yours sincerely,

/s/ Stansfield Turner

JAMES R. CALLOWAY
CHIEF COUNSEL AND STAFF DIRECTOR

March 28, 1978

Admiral Stansfield Turner
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Admiral Turner:

(13)

This follows up my letter of March 9 on the questioning of Iran's future after the Shah's death. Your analyst [redacted] briefed my staff and answered the questions in my letter--no further reply to those is necessary now.

STAT

STAT

[redacted] told us that he is preparing an intelligence memorandum on precisely this subject. I was disturbed to hear that there is no current assessment or contingency planning on this very important issue and that the CIA's attention to internal affairs in Iran is limited. I believe that the 2-3 year period following the Shah's death may well be dangerous to our military and intelligence capabilities, and--of particular interest and concern to me--to the international economy and the stability of the dollar.

I urge you to ensure that the CIA's information on Iran is extensive, current, and detailed. Please make a copy of [redacted] assessment available to me as soon as it is a completed CIA product ready for circulation for the comment of other agencies. ?

STAT

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

William Proxmire, U.S.S.
