1. In the French zone in Austria, the French authorities are recruiting former soldiers of the Hungarian Army for guard duty. Applicants sign for a three months period and former officers are accepted as non-commissioned officers. After completion of duty, immigration either to France or to the French colonies has been unofficially promised.
2. The Hungarian camp for DP's in Reggio Emilia, Italy, which is under British control, has been transferred to Trevi. The DP's have been informed that they will be sent collectively to Somaliland with an opportunity to settle there or to enlist in the British Colonial Army at a later date.
3. It is believed that France and Great Britain are inaugurating a new long-range policy toward Hungarian emigrants under their jurisdiction with the aim of utilizing the manpower and securing the goodwill of these people for future political eventualities.
