- As part of the general "withdrawal" plan of Communists, in the event of severed relations with the National Government, a number of Communists prominent in the field of publications have recently terminated certain of their activities in the Shanghai-Nanking area. HSIUNG Chin-ting (熊瑾玎) has sold the property of the New China Daily News in Nanking. HSIUNG was formerly manager of this paper in Chungking. PAN Tzu-nien (潘梓年) prominent member of the Preparatory Committee of the New China Daily News, Shanghai edition, has terminated his activities for this agency in Shanghai. FAN Ch'ang-chiang (范长江), member of the Nanking Branch of the New China News Agency, has arrived in Shanghai. The three individuals mentioned above, HSIUNG, PAN, and FAN, are now living at 25 Mikow Road, Shanghai, and are temporarily engaged in handling the Communist magazine Ch'uan Chung (Mass Weekly, 群众). KO Mao (莫方), well known Communist writer, is now in Shanghai, but is making preparations to leave the city. Note: KO is actually director of the New China News Agency, though PAN Tzu-nien is named as the director.
