1. There is an ordnance factory equipped with forty or fifty machines in operation at the former automobile warehouse. More than 200 workers, mostly Japanese, are employed. This factory manufactures mortar shells and ammunition for small-size machine guns and hand-grenades; it also salvages weapons.
2. The larger of two knitting factories is not operating at present. The smaller one, at the former Kuan-lin-shu [?factory?] produces twenty rolls of materials daily from eight knitting machines.
3. A bank note press is operating and prints all denominations of Communist currency.
4. A leather factory, at the former Man-Hsien Lumber Company, employs about 180 workers and produces shoes and other leather goods for military use.
5. A match factory in Nenchiang Hsien has not yet started production.
