SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. The Yugoslav Navy had at its disposal during September the following submarines:

Four former Italian submarines, type "CB"
One former Italian submarine, type "CM"
Two former German submarines
Five Soviet pocket submarines.

2. The Soviet submarines arrived disassembled at Split in the early months of 1948 by rail. Assembly took place in the shipyard at Split. These differ from types "CB" and "CM" in that their tonnage and speed are stated to be greater and that they have a crew of eight.
3. During March and April 1948, material arrived by rail from the Soviet Union for the assembly of six new pocket submarines. Part of the material was delivered at Sibenik, where assembly is now taking place, and part is in storage at Divulje near Split.
4. It is also reported that Soviet pocket submarines have their base at Sibenik (Madelena). A former German submarine, model 44, was observed at Split. This submarine was 10 meters long and had two torpedo tubes.
