ENCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE)

REMARKS

50X1-HUM

1. On 24 February 1951, six AA guns of about 37 mm caliber were observed to be emplaced on the southern slope of Lehnberg, Hill 487.4, near Schwarzenberg (N 51/K 52) in the Erzgebirge Mts. The guns, whose barrels pointed southwest, were spaced 30 to 40 meters from each other. Near each gun was a crew shelter built into the earth. A short distance from the emplacements were several wooden sheds and, about 400 meters away, a radio installation of three-axle radio trucks. Three trucks seen at the emplacements were driven by soldiers who wore red-bordered black epaulets.

2. The gun crews were relieved at intervals of about one month, the last relief having taken place on 28 January 1951.

50X1-HUM

3. The unit which was relieved at the emplacements on 28 January was followed as far as the Autobahn exit of Chemnitz-South. The unit had motor vehicles
