* [REDACTED] Comment. The traffic across the Frankfurt/Oder border crossing point during the period mentioned seems to have been covered almost completely; however, the report decreases in value since in many cases important data on the number of railroad cars, loads, places of departure and destination are missing. [REDACTED] by filling in the time gap between them. The grain shipments are believed to be grain shuttle trains. [REDACTED]

 [REDACTED] Comment. The new refrigerator cars are reparations deliveries to the U.S.S.R. At the Soviet border crossing point they are mounted on Soviet-gauge axles, while the standard-gauge axles are returned to Germany.

 [REDACTED] Comment. These are the first shipments of standard-gauge axles, which will be used for the German freight cars returned from the U.S.S.R. to the Soviet Zone of Germany. In the U.S.S.R. these cars were mounted on Soviet-gauge axles.
