1. During June 1951, Yugoslav economists held an important meeting in Rijeka for the purpose of discussing the present economic situation in that area. Present at this meeting were the following officials of the Croat People's Republic: Anka Berus, Minister of Finance; Marin Cetinic, President of the Commercial Council and Mlutin Baltic, Minister of Labor. Also attending the economic meeting were all the members of the Rijeka Regional Committee of the Yugoslav Communist Party for the district and city, and industrial directors of state enterprises from Rijeka, Opatija and other cities on the Dalmatian coast.
2. The problem discussed at the meeting was the critical economic situation of the Rijeka area. Several of the industrial directors whose enterprises are in bad state bitterly criticized the excessive number of directives, the fiscal policies and the dishonesty of the bureaucrats assigned to the state economic control bureaus. They accused these individuals of inflexibility and corruption.
