1. General FRANCO was still pressing Don Juan in mid-September 1951 to meet with him some time in October to discuss Spanish problems in general and the succession in particular. [REDACTED] the Pretender has informed FRANCO that he will agree to the meeting only if he is permitted to have a witness of his own choosing present at the meeting and is allowed to issue communique on the progress of the negotiations.
2. The chiefs of the households of Don Juan and General FRANCO were conferring in mid-September in the effort to reach terms for the meeting acceptable to both sides.
