a. Each training period will last for three months.

b. Subjects covered during this training period will include Communism, the Thought of MAO Tse-tung, the Platform of the People's Political Consultative Conference, a study of current events, and elucidation of policies.

c. Persons will be trained in rotation in the following order:

(1) retained staff

- (2) new staff
- (3) secondary responsible officers of departments or sections
- (4) ordinary comrades (i.e., CCP and Youth Corps members).

At this time the CCP Organization Department required that all CCP and Youth Corps members, without exception, undergo this training in rotation.

The cadre schools in the various provinces were designated as the organizations responsible for providing this training, and the training program actually began in the spring of 1951.
