* [Redacted] comment. The 1,140 carloads of supply handled during 51 days of observation correspond to an average of 22 carloads per day, i.e. four carloads per day more than in March 1952. The increase in the volume of supply traffic is caused by the motor vehicle exchange program now under way. See [Redacted]

[Redacted] comment.

 in Weimar since 1947 and appears to belong to a signal communication unit. According to previous information, the Eighth Gds Army is assigned the 146th Sig Bn,  which, however, was only once identified in Weimar after the war in August 1947. In World War II this army was also assigned the 91st Sig Regt which, according to Higher Headquarters, is still a component of the Eighth Gds Army.
