THE NEED-TO-KNOW PRINCIPLE: A Brief Historical Analysis 8 pp.

ABSTRACT NOTATION REFERENCES

Pages 1-4: General theory behind intelligence organizations and intelligence collection and historical sketch of development of intelligence services. Pages 5-8: Notes complexification of intelligence material and compartment obligation of intelligence functions leading to bureaucratic difficulties in applying the need-to-know. Demonstrates such difficulties as do or might arise in CIA and questions difficulties raised. Concludes a re-thinking of need-to-know theory and application is needed to effect greater cooperation, coordination, and communication.
