the working methods of the Russians in the fields, instead of using the double jets installed by the Germans, the Russians had removed these and tried to pump each well completely dry by means of electric motors and gas compressors. In particular the Russians are eager to effect the earliest possible complete clearing of oil fields in Zistersdorf. The loading stations of the field are marked on the map by numbers 22 and 23 (XXXX). The main loading place for the oil from the fields is Moosbierbaum.
