██████████ agreeably surprised at the orderly way things were being done and the excellent law enforcement. Policing of towns near military encampments was especially good.

- 2. There were no idle soldiers seen. If not engaged in military training, they were kept busy at useful work such as road maintenance.
- 3. The whole organization is built around Chiang Kai Shek and his picture is displayed everywhere. ██████ had to wonder what would happen if he were suddenly removed.
- 4. Among all the people contacted, from small shopkeepers to important business men, ██████ heard much praise of Japanese conduct during occupation. It left a definite impression that their return would be welcome.
