1. [REDACTED] in the Philippines, located in Manila, has obtained exchange permits from the Philippine Government for the purchase of necessary equipment to establish a truck assembly plant in Manila. The building to be used is already constructed and located in the Port area of Manila. It is about 467 ft in length and 156 ft in width.
2. At present this building is used for, what might be termed, a final assembly operation. However, it is the intention [REDACTED] to obtain truck units completely disassembled and to put them together, thus establishing, in terms of the Philippine Government, a new factory operation. This procedure will permit greater allowable imports and likewise a considerable saving in the price of the assembled units. All bodies or cabs for the trucks will be fabricated in the new assembly plant. The anticipated production figures are 10 to 20 truck units per day. Floor Plan of proposed assembly plant available on loan from CIA Library
3. The building indicated as "Long term lease" on drawing of present and future installations Available on loan from CIA Library has been used as a second-hand car salesroom and storage. The building on the corner of Railroad Street and 21st Street houses the main office and display room plus customer servicing facilities. Incidentally, the offices are completely air-conditioned. The building on the corner of Railroad Street and 20th Street housed new units completely assembled and ready for delivery, plus the final adjustment and assembly of passenger cars. The building now proposed for the assembly plant is located on Railroad Street between 18th and 19th Streets. Our distributor's installation is located two blocks from the Piers of the Manila Harbor and roughly three blocks from the Manila Hotel, as indicated by Enclosure "A".
